This year is sure to be filled with fun and excitement!
Applying to college is a long process
but it's the first step into the real world.
-Shawn McDermott

I remember my first step into King Philip when I was just a freshman.
I was so excited for the years to come.
Those first steps have affected my journey through high school.
-Alyson Barker

Getting around with a broken arm was hard to get used to at first but now it's easier than it was before.
-Todd Deschamps

After a couple of days, we seemed to know our way around;
the school didn't seem so big anymore.

*A journey of a thousand miles
begins with a single step.
-Confucius*

What were your thoughts when you first stepped foot inside the doors of King Philip?
Scared? Overwhelmed? Anxious? Excited?
You may have been scared, wondering if you would know anyone in your classes.
Juggling school work and activities may have seemed overwhelming at first.
Even looking for a familiar face at lunch for seven days in a row could make the strongest person anxious.
But you soon realized that exciting opportunities presented themselves around every corner.
Sometimes taking the first step can be the hardest but it leads us to bigger and better things.

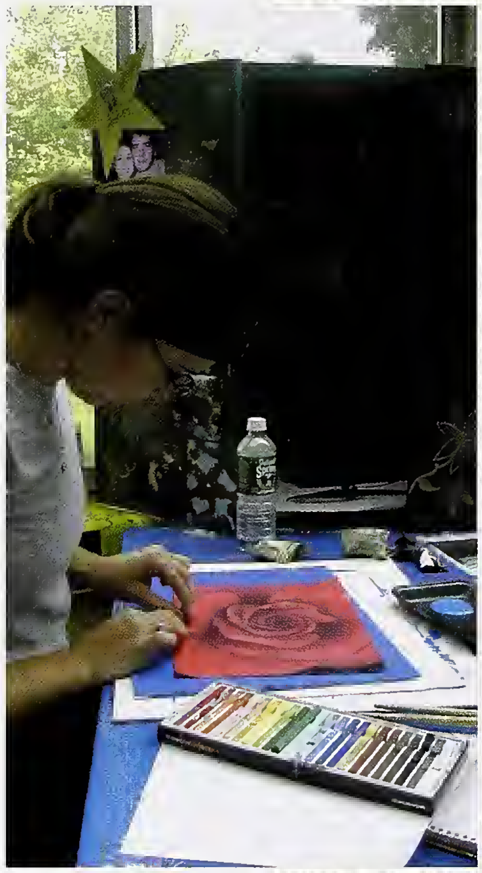
I have been in marching band for two years. I enjoy the competition in band.
-Tim Singer



I have been drawing since I was a little kid. It's something I enjoy doing both inside and outside of school.
-Ashley Daubenmire

We find it easier to concentrate when studying together than studying with a group of people.
-Michael Hume, Patricia Gately

We always get a lot of attention when we dress up for school!

If a man does not keep pace with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer.
Let him step to the music
which he hears,
however measured or far away.
-Thoreau

No one person is alike.
We're all different and unique in our own ways.
We all have different ways of expressing ourselves.
Some of us may make ourselves unique by dressing or wearing our hair and make-up in different ways. Others may choose to take part in activities that are not considered the high school norm. Still others may have thoughts and opinions that are far from the common conception of teenage thinking. But no matter how different we all are from one another, one thing we will always have in common is our years at King Philip.
They will stay with us forever and lead us on to the destiny in life that awaits each one of us.

I hope in the future to meet people who are as fun as my friends
from high school!
-Brian Moore
(with Marc McMorrow, and Bill Cobb)

In the future I want to become an artist who draws for comic books.
Art is such a release for me and I think
I would enjoy that career!
-Sam Furst

Choosing a college is one of the most important decisions to make but college fairs make it easier to learn more about a variety of colleges.
-Aimee Kern,
Rose Becker

Send me on my way

I really enjoy traveling and I hope to return to Australia in future years!

The future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams.
-Eleanor Roosevelt

After graduation we will all move on to different endeavors and in different directions.
Some of us will go to college, others into the military and some right into the business world.
We all hope to succeed in the future.
All the hard work we've done in the past will help to fulfill our future goals.
Many of us dream about what we are going to do when we get out of high school, but one thing is for sure.
King Philip will be in our hearts always and forever.

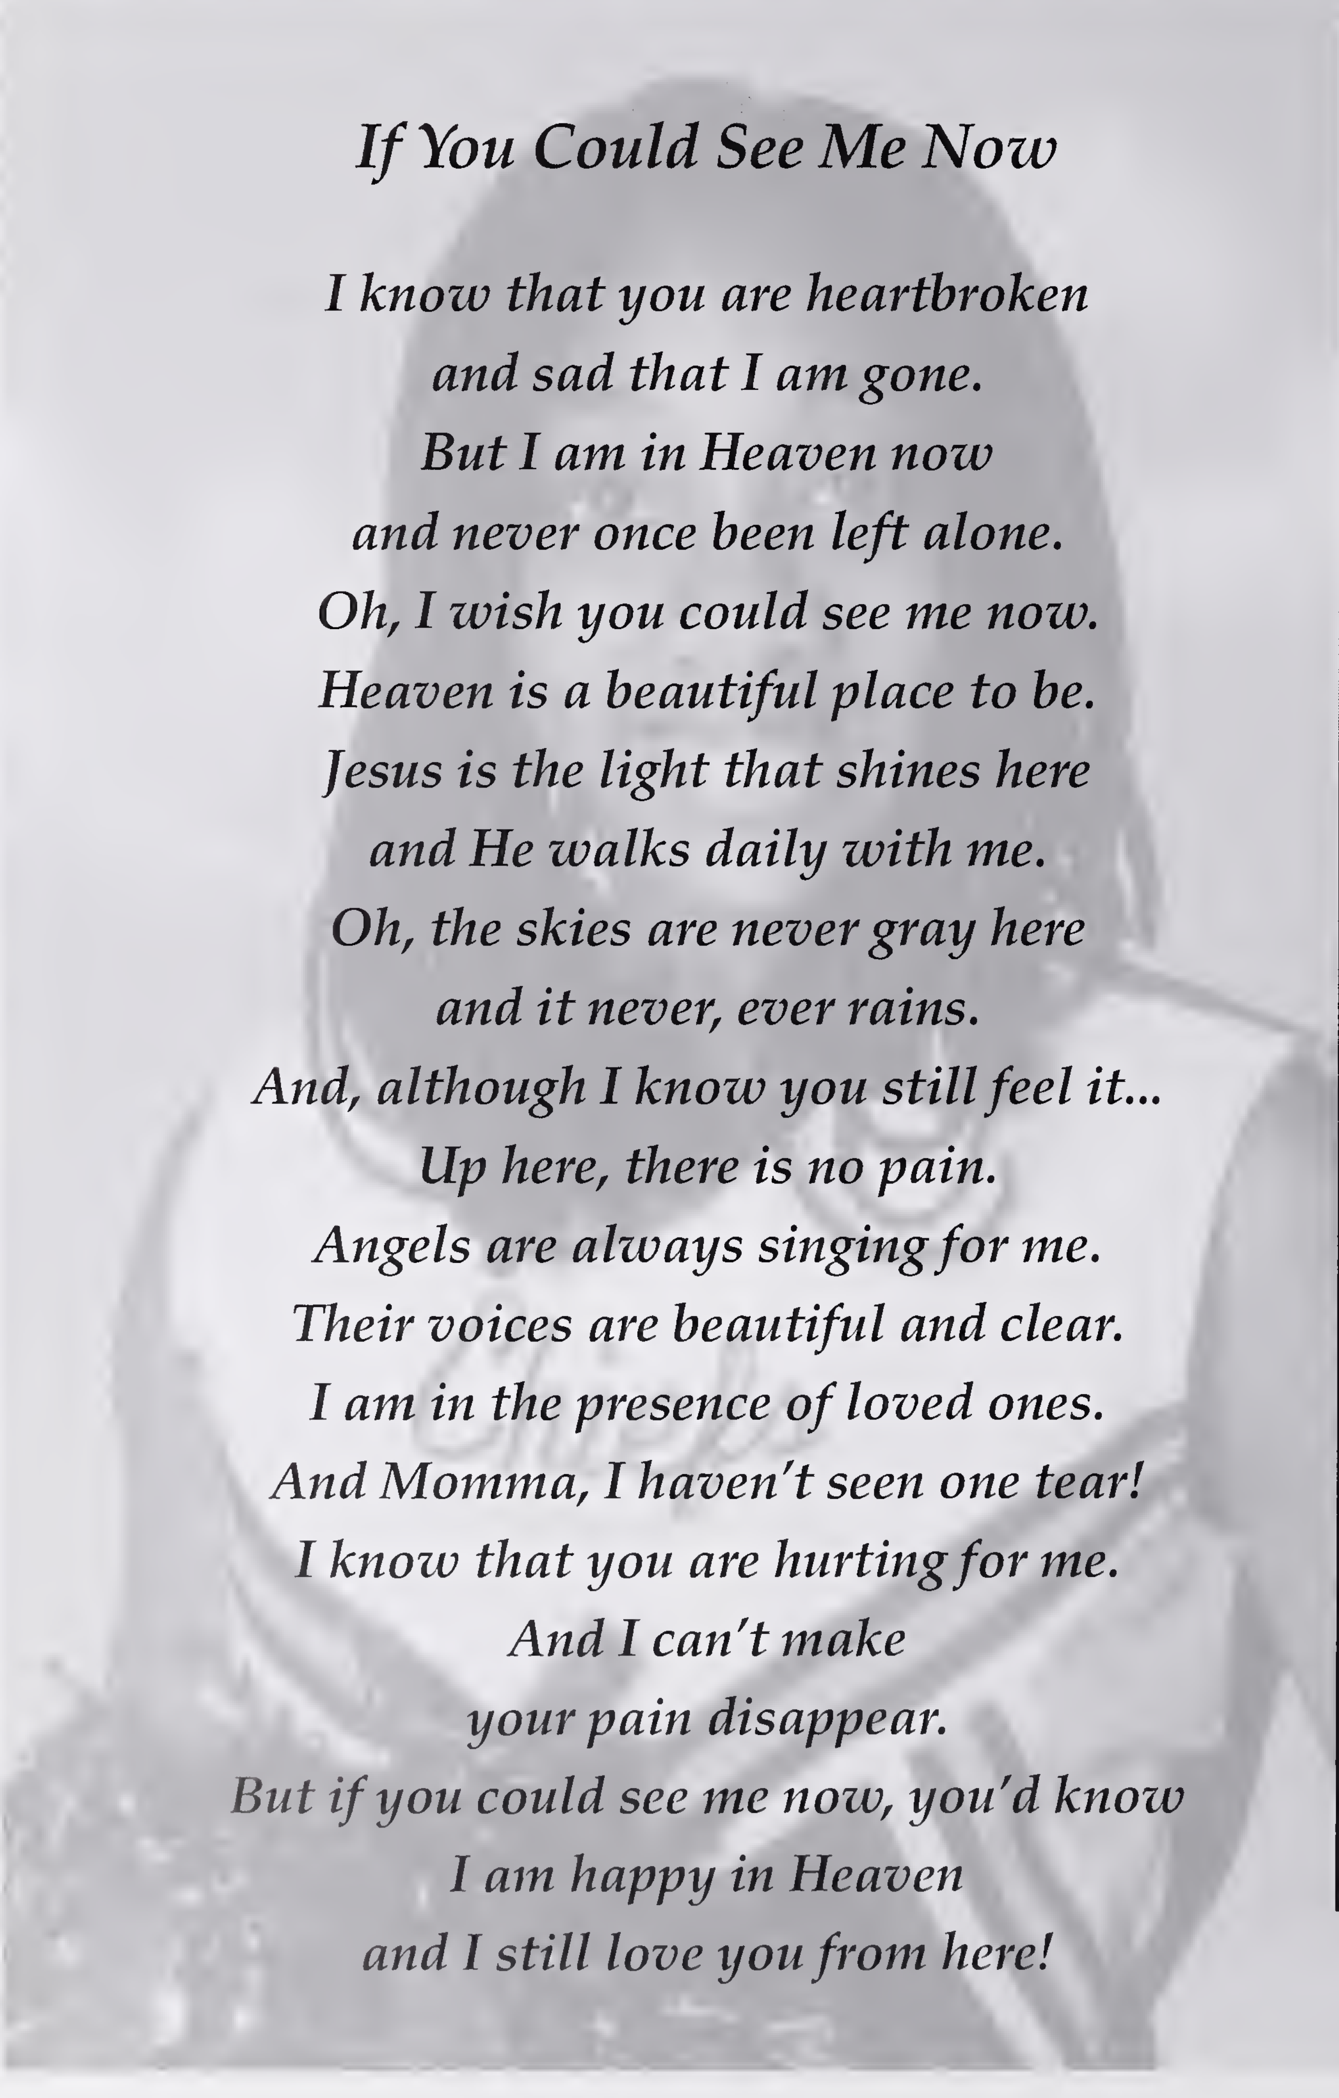
In Remembrance of



If You Could See Me Now

I know that you are heartbroken and sad that I am gone.
But I am in Heaven now and never once been left alone.
Oh, I wish you could see me now.
Heaven is a beautiful place to be.
Jesus is the light that shines here and He walks daily with me.
Oh, the skies are never gray here and it never, ever rains.
And, although I know you still feel it...
Up here, there is no pain.
Angels are always singing for me.
Their voices are beautiful and clear.
I am in the presence of loved ones.
And Momma, I haven't seen one tear!
I know that you are hurting for me.
And I can't make your pain disappear.
But if you could see me now, you'd know
I am happy in Heaven and I still love you from here!

Teala had a way of making you smile. She was a spirited person who lived her life to the fullest. She has taught me not to take things for granted.
Lynn Tornabene

She always knew just how to make you laugh.
Katelyn Lorimer

I miss all the N-64 adventures/trips to BK and late night mac-n-cheese! I miss the way you made me smile and brightened up my day. You were always there for me; being able to be best friends was truly an honor. I'll always love you.
Amy Daniel

Teala Satterfield

Teala was always my girl that was down for anything at any time and I really just miss her being a part of the trouble
I get in.
Danielle Struhar

What I miss most about Teala are our crazy times together and all the inside jokes
we had.
Kate Moore

You are a dear friend of mine.
I miss your outgoing spirit and the way you would always make me smile.
It was always an adventure
with you!
Love Always,
Jasmin Endisch

No birth certificate is issued when friendship is born.
There is nothing tangible.
There is just a feeling that your life is different and that your capacity to love and care has miraculously been enlarged without any effort on your part.
It's like having a tiny apartment and somebody moves in with you.
But instead of becoming cramped and crowded, the space expands, and you discover rooms you never knew you had until your friend moved in with you.

I think this is an opportunity because I feel I have more freedom and can be independent when I decide what I want to get involved with.

Joe Kajano

This is an opportunity because independence gives me the chance to try new things.

With independence comes responsibility. Is this an opportunity or a setback?

Kerry Maher

An opportunity because it allows you to expand your freedom and help you to grow as a person.

This high school is a very special place. It has been an honor to have the opportunity to talk with you, visit your classes, see you perform in academic and co-curricula settings, receive awards, and share life's ups and downs. The camaraderie, school spirit, respect and concern for others, and overall civility that you consistently exhibit is a credit to you, your parents/guardians, and your high school teachers, counselors, and administrators. Good health and success be with you, Class of 2004!

King Philip Regional High School combines the best of academics, athletics, and activities. Our student body consistently scores above average on standardized tests such as the MCAS and SAT's. Students are actively involved in a wide range of extracurricular activities such as Student Council, S.A.D.D., and Leo Club. In addition, our music program, has received the highest accolades in local, regional and national competitions. Our athletic program boasts several division championships and a number ot teams who have made it into the state final competitions. Our staff, professional and paraprofessional, is among the most dedicated and enthusiastic in the region. Parents are involved in a number of ways to support the education process at King Philip: the King Philip Music Association, the School Council, the School Committee, the Parents' Network, and the sports boosters. Their continued efforts enhance the potential of all students.

Sincerely,
Mr. Levine

Miss Southworth

My favorite activity on weekends is going to the Cape.

Language Arts

Ask Your Teacher!

Have you ever traveled to any place exciting?

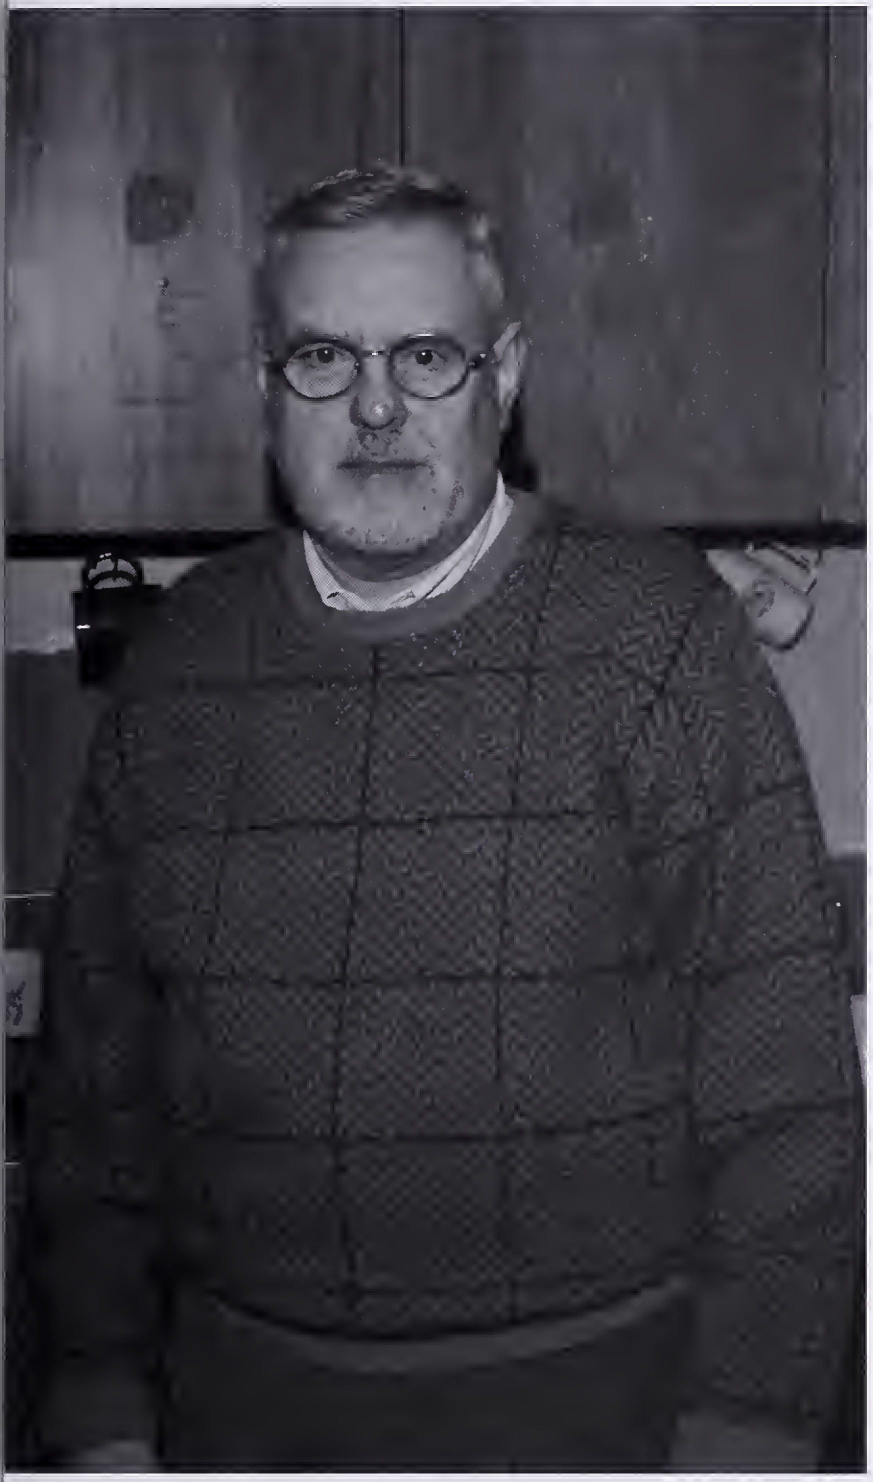
You would never believe the paths that some teachers have traveled during the years before they became teachers. For instance, Ms. Folliard was asked by the music director of her high school in Minnesota to sing with the jazz ensemble. This was quite an honor since no one before her or since (to the best of her knowledge) has ever been asked to sing with the jazz ensemble. Later on, she sang Vivaldi's Gloria in the Costa Rican National Theatre to four thousand people, including the first lady of Costa Rica. Another teacher with an interesting past is Ms. Bremer who was in the Peace Corps. She taught English in Tunisia. During this training she got to do practice teaching and all of sudden she knew what she was meant to do.

Mrs. Martin

My favorite moment in high school was when I starred as Alice in a production called "Alice in Americaland." It was a drama club production.

Mrs. Huckle

My favorite activity on the weekends is getting together with my friends and family.



Mr. Ahern

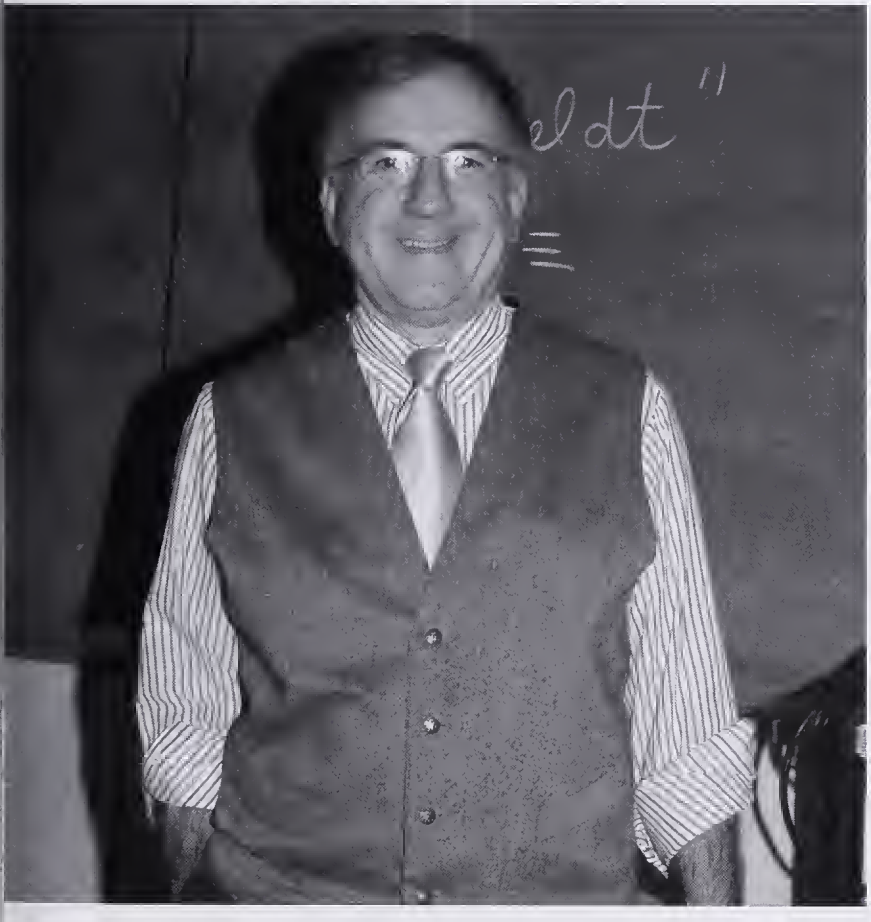
My favorite thing to do on the weekend is to relax.

Dr. Mongeon

My favorite moment in high school was when I won a state speech contest.

Miss Ryan

My first job was a secretary to the vice president of an international shoe corporation.



Ms. Folliard

I first knew that I wanted to become a teacher when I was eleven years old and explained the play I was in to my friends.

Ms. Logan

I first knew I wanted to become a teacher when I was a young girl and played school with my sister.

Mr. Besaw

My worst fashion statement was wearing white bucks.

Ask Your Teacher!

When did you first know you wanted to become a teacher?

We are lucky have so many great teachers here at KP. However, if it weren't for career changes, many of our favorite teachers wouldn't be teaching today. Miss Frey, for example, almost became a doctor. She applied to college as a pre-med student. Then, during her freshman year, she had to go to the hospital to get her wisdom teeth out. She hated the hospital environment so much she changed her major to education. This was an easy choice for her because she loved teaching CCD. Mrs. Meyer also made a career change. She used to arrange field trips and scouting programs as a consultant for Stoney Brook. She wanted a full time job, but she still wanted to work with kids. Teaching biology at KP just made sense.

Miss Smestad

My worst fashion statement ever was wearing fluorescent clothes and big bangs.

Mrs. Myers

My favorite part of high school was pep rallies and football games.

Mathematics

Mrs. Barrett

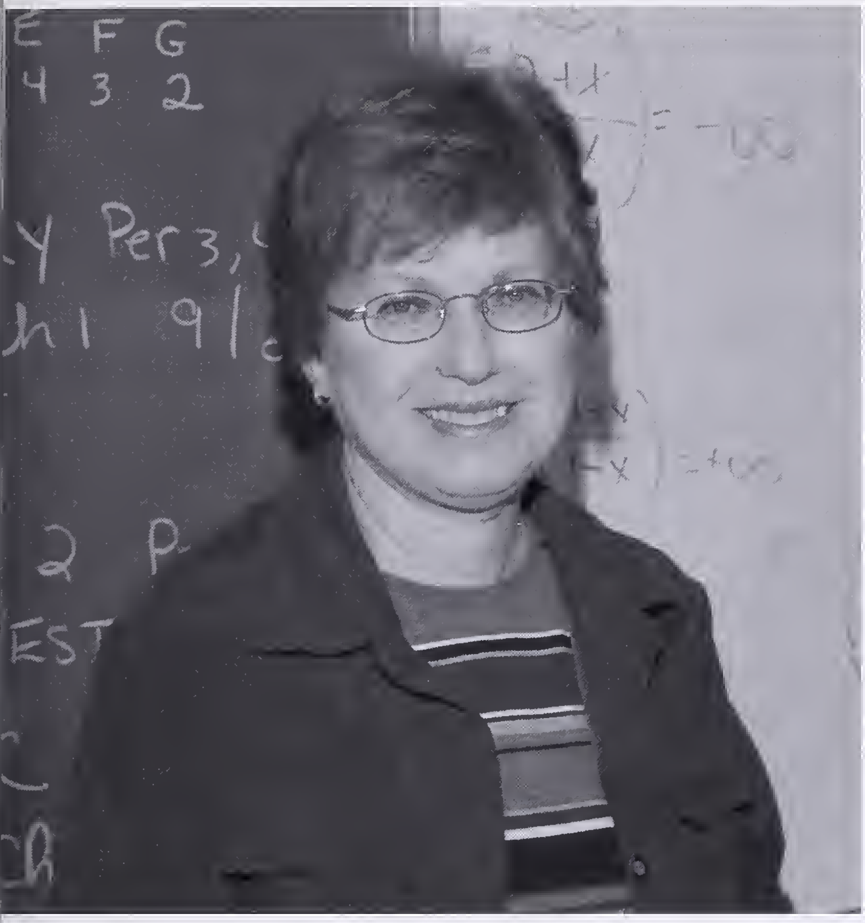
The worst fashion statement I ever made was uniform skirts rolled up and knee socks rolled down.

Mr. Kummer

My favorite activity on weekends is watching my kids' athletic events.

Mrs. DeLuca

My favorite moment in high school was going to the Tom Petty and the Heartbreakers with Stevie Nicks concert.



Mrs. Neubauer

My worst fashion statement ever was fishnet stockings and Go-Go boots.

Mr. Kramer

My favorite thing about high school was being part of a team.

Mr. Mitchell

My most embarassing moment was sitting at a stop sign, waiting for the light to change.

Ms. Frey

My favorite activity on weekends is working at Tyler's.

Ms. Strekouras

My first job was as a dietary aide in a hospital when I was 16.

Miss Coutu

I knew I wanted to be a teacher in third grade because I loved being left in charge when the teacher left the room.

Mr. Guernon

I knew I wanted to become a teacher when I realized that I'd never be hired for a real job.

Ms. Proulx

The worst fashion statement I ever made was a frosted jean skirt and gigantic shoulder pads.

Mr. Breen

My worst fashion statement would be skinny ties and bad hair cuts in the 80's.

Mr. Fayle

My first job was as a farm hand on a dairy farm at age 14.

Ms. Bremer

The best surprise I ever received was the Massachusetts DAR award for History Teaching and the Mass. Council for the Social Studies award for Outstanding Department Leader.

Mrs. Viles-Antonellis

The best surprise I ever received was my husband taking me to Villa d'Este on Lake Como in Italy.

The Man with a Hole in His Head
YANKEE

Mr. Finase

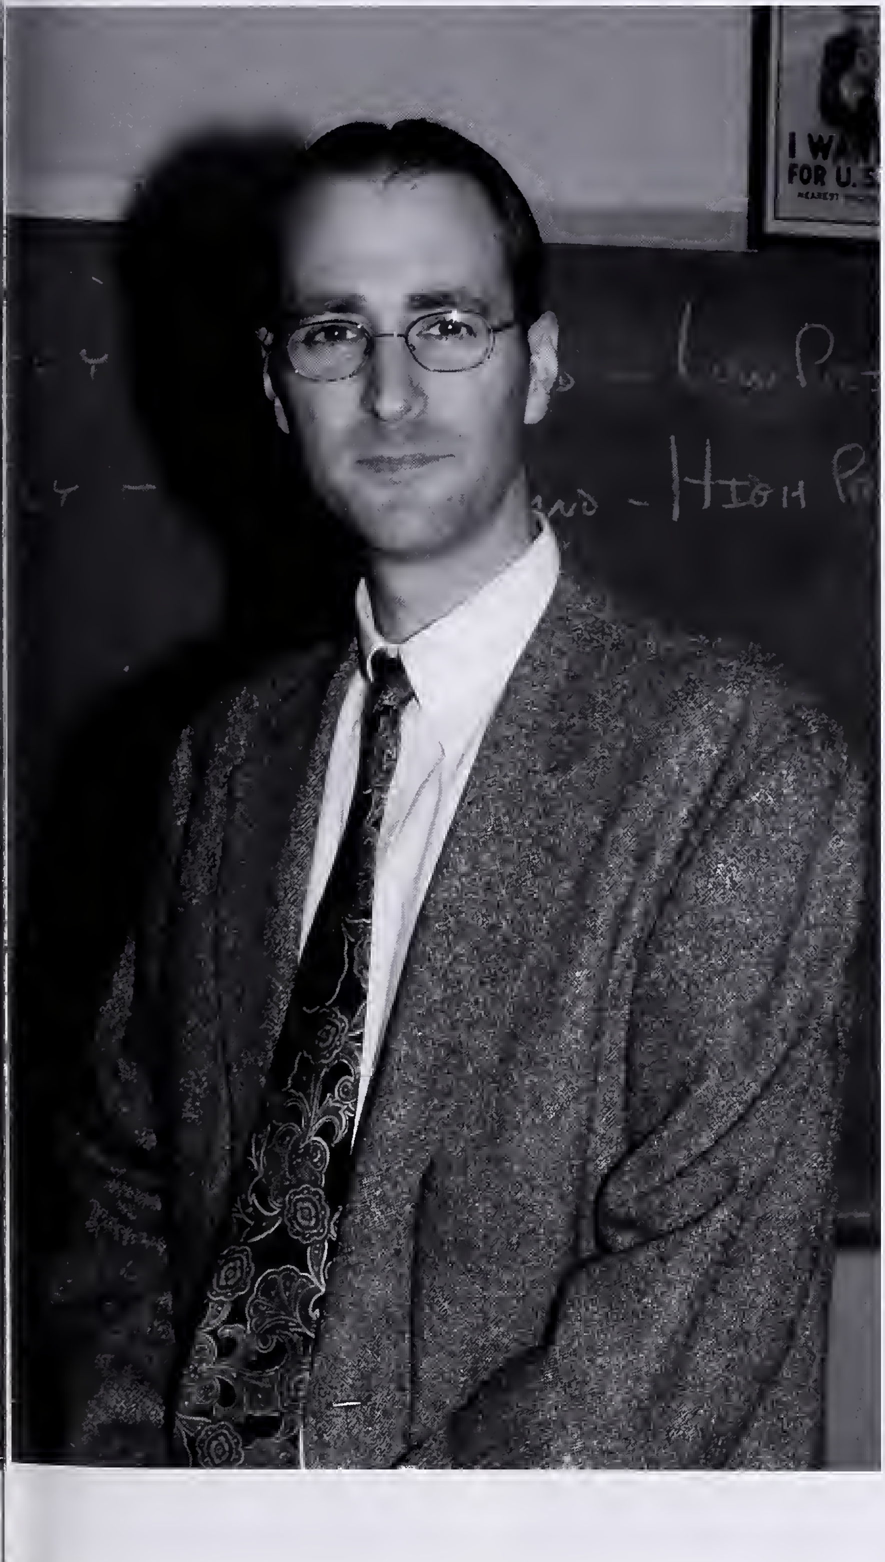
The best surprise I ever received was the birth of my son.

Ask Your Teacher!

What's your favorite holiday?

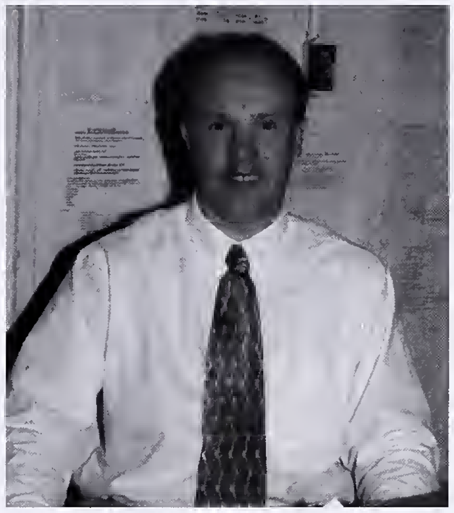
Halloween has always been a fun time of the year. You get to dress up and go around to houses and ask for candy. For some people, it might even be their favorite holiday. Mrs. Gallagher happens to be a teacher who in her younger years loved to celebrate Halloween. Each year at Mrs. Gallagher's high school they had a costume contest. Sophomore through senior year Mrs. Gallagher and her friends would all dress up as a group. Over the three years, the girls dressed up as 101 Dalmations, Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs and Santa's reindeer. Every year the girls participated they won first place, plus they had a blast planning it and participating in it.

Social Studies



Mrs. Erickson

My most embarrasing moment would have to be falling down in front of my class.



Mr. Karjel

My favorite moment in high school was playing varsity basketball and hitting a game winning basket.

Mr. Ferreira

The best surprise I ever received was being named drama director at K.P.

Mr. Boucher
I like to work with wood on the weekend.

Mr. Grover
My favorite moment in high school was when I was announced as the valedictorian and got a standing ovation.

Dr. DiMilla
My favorite weekend activities are reading the Sunday paper and listening to sports radio.

Mr. Beard
My most embarrassing moment was falling into a river during a biology lab.

Mrs. Pickart
I won a twist contest in high school.

(far right) Mr. Pultz
My favorite activity on weekends is spelunking.

Mrs. Knight

When I was 16 years old
I worked in a jewelry factory.

Mrs. Villiard

My favorite activity on the weekends is driving my PT Cruiser.

Mrs. Elich

I first knew I wanted to become a teacher when I helped out at my children's school.

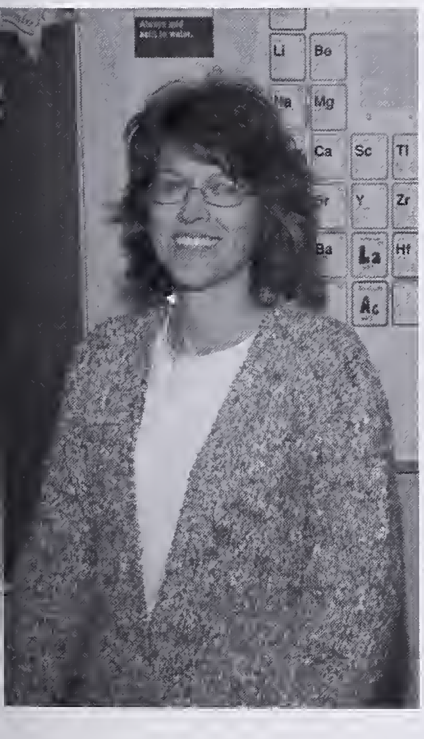
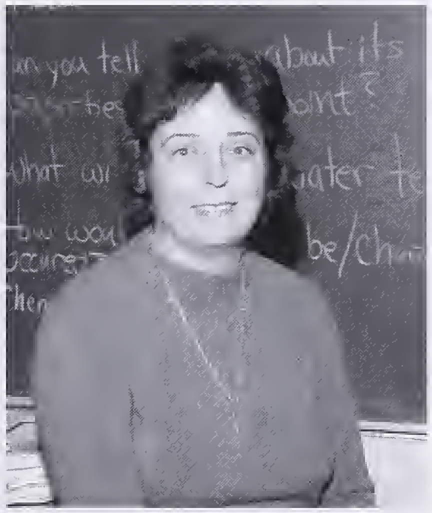
Ask Your Teacher!

What was your worst fashion statement?

Many people can think of a time when they dressed crazy. For a lot of people, this time was when they were in college. It may have only been for a day, or it could have been for a whole year. Mr. Grover decided to dress like a Spanish conquistador one day. Mr. Beard wore a fez for a few weeks. He picked it up in a hippie store and thought it was cool. He wore it everywhere for a while, but then he decided it was ugly. Mrs. Lambert wore a study cap. It was a gray knit hat with little pom poms coming out of the top. She needed to wear the cap because she would pull her hair out while she studied. She says the cap helped her a lot, and she might even still use it.





Mrs. Meyer

I have had many bad fashion statements involving stripes.

Mrs. Lambert

My first job was as a lifeguard at age 16.

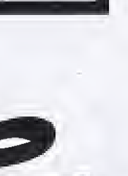
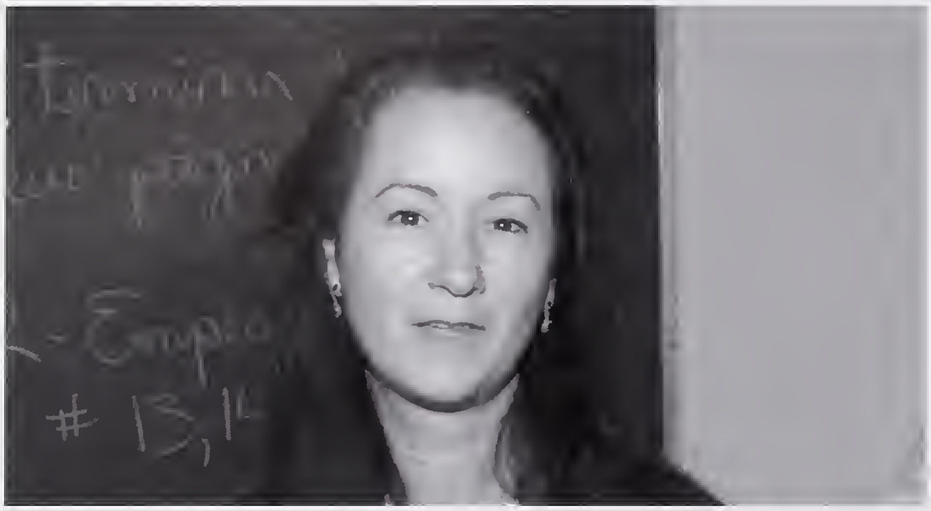
Science



Mrs. Kauper
The worst fashion statement that I ever made was the Madonna look in the 1980's.



Mrs. Chilson
I first knew I wanted to become a teacher when I was in fourth grade. I used to play school all the time.

Ask Your Teacher!

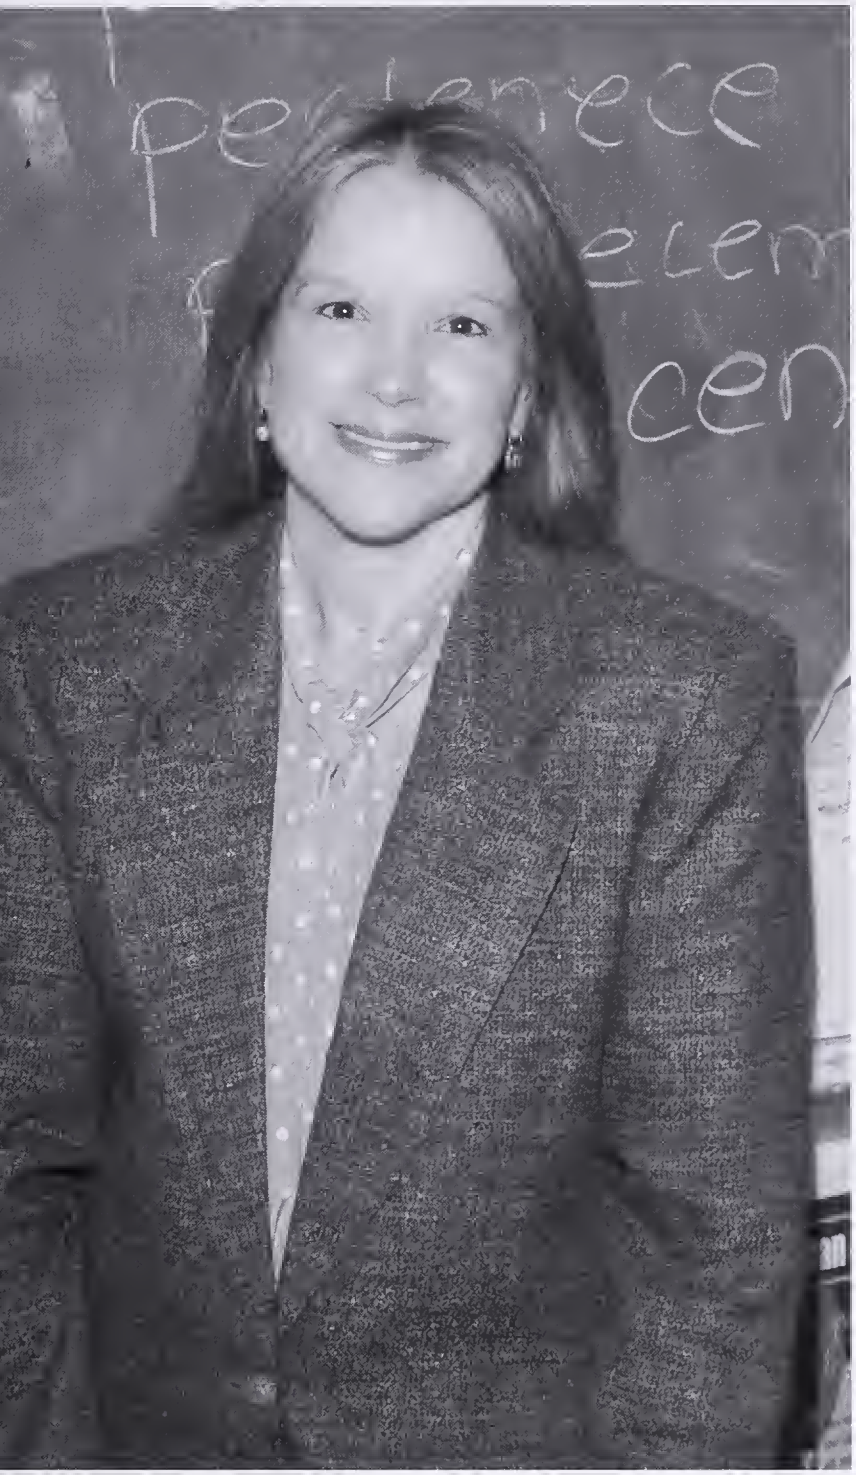
What do you like to do on the weekends?

Do you love animals? Mrs. Greenleaf does. She has two dogs, three cats, two ducks, and thirteen chickens and all of her pets except the ducks and chickens were adopted from animal shelters. When I went to talk to Mrs. Greenleaf about her animals she was trying to help a lady on the phone who had stray kittens in her yard and was trying to catch them. Mrs. Greenleaf spends most of her free time, winter and summer, volunteering at these shelters. She belongs to animal welfare groups like the MSPCA, Humane Society, Winslow Farm, and Best Friends Animal Shelter. In addition to her pets she also takes in foster animals that have been abandoned or injured. She believes that she has this love for animals because she grew up on an Indian reservation and was exposed to cultural beliefs like Animal Reiki. Reiki is touch healing with animals; people use their hands to help heal animal wounds. The teaching staff knows about Mrs. Greenleaf's passion for animals because of the weekly announcements she makes in the teachers' room. She likes to describe recent arrivals at her shelter believing that the perfect match could be as close as the teacher in the next room.

World Languages

Ms. Capasso
I was inspired by my Italian teacher in college to become a Spanish teacher.

Mrs. Zuercher
My most embarrassing moment ever was when I came out of the bathroom with toilet paper hanging out of my pants.



Mrs. McCourt

My most embarrassing moment was when I was student teaching and slipped on the floor and fell down.

Mrs. D'Annunzio

My favorite activity on weekends is making dinner with my husband.

Ms. Figueiredo

Besides Massachusetts I have lived in Angola, Portugal, France, Austria, California, and Rhode Island.

Mrs. Mannering

My worst fashion statement ever was a perm.

Information Technology

Ask Your Teacher!

What was your most embarrassing moment?

Many people get stage fright when they go on stage in front of a big crowd. Some people get butterflies in their stomachs. Some people, such as Dr. Mongeon, freeze. When she was fourteen, she was the Mistress of Ceremonies for the CYO Concert Band in the Worcester Auditorium. She announced that the CYO Concert Band will now present Hoagy Carmichael's unforgettable... and she forgot! She froze on stage for several seconds and when she remembered, she said, OK, yes, 'Stardust,' and she ran off the stage. She still doesn't forget the embarrassment she felt.

Mrs. Stankiewicz

I first knew I wanted to become a teacher as soon as I started first grade.

Mrs. Raymond

The first job I ever had was a paper route when I was nine.

Mrs. Campos

My most embarrassing moment ever was when I passed out and fell to the floor.

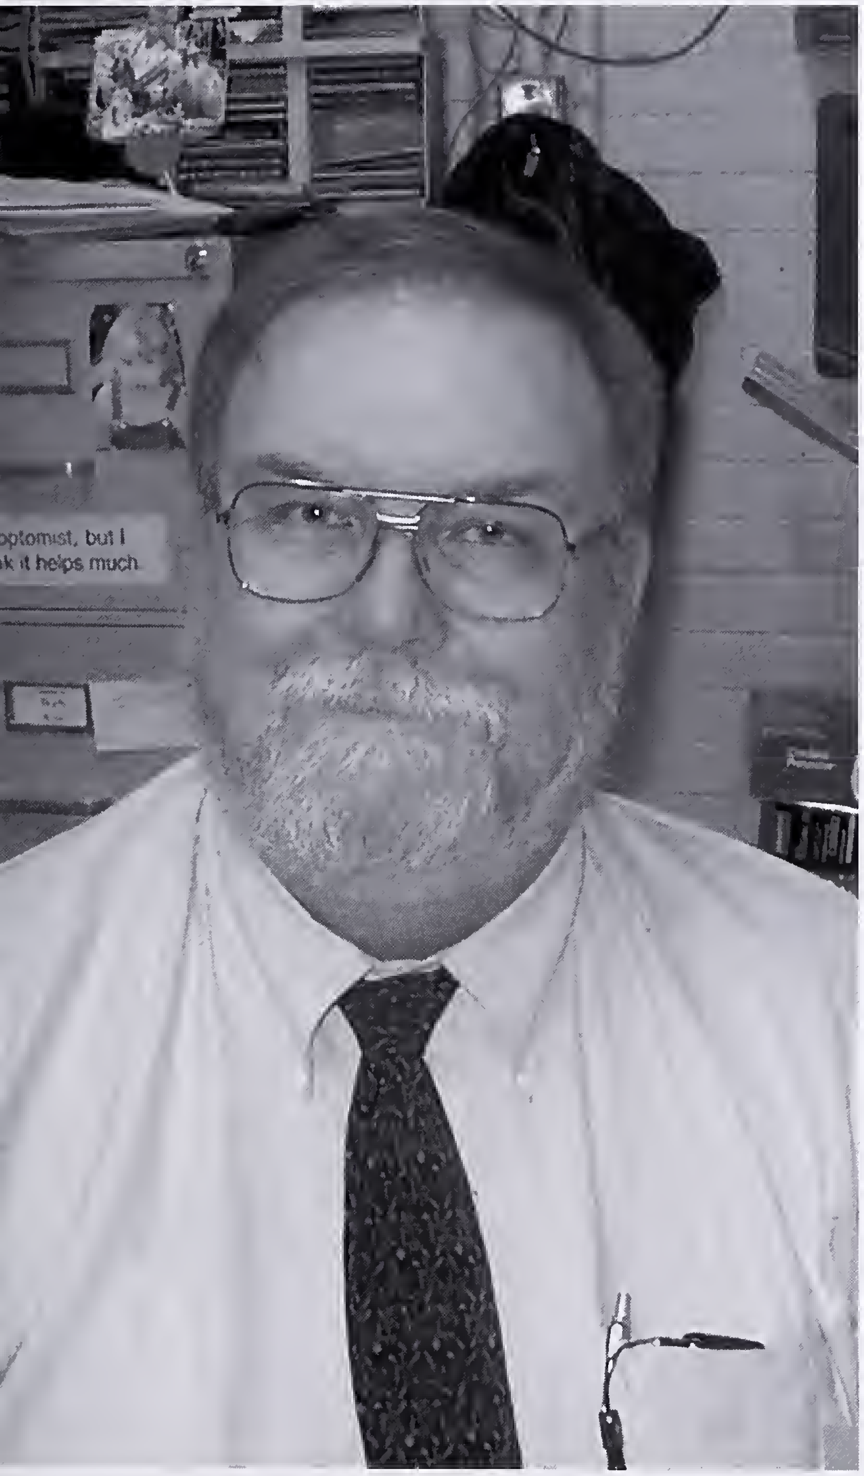
Mr. Guillemette

The best surprise I ever received was when my Pfizer stock split 3 for 1.

Mr. Riley

The first time I knew I wanted to become a teacher was when I had a vision while I was skiing.

Design Technology



Mr. Runeman

The best surprise I ever received was my first bicycle on my sixth birthday.

Mr. Woods

My favorite activity to do on the weekends is spend time with my family.

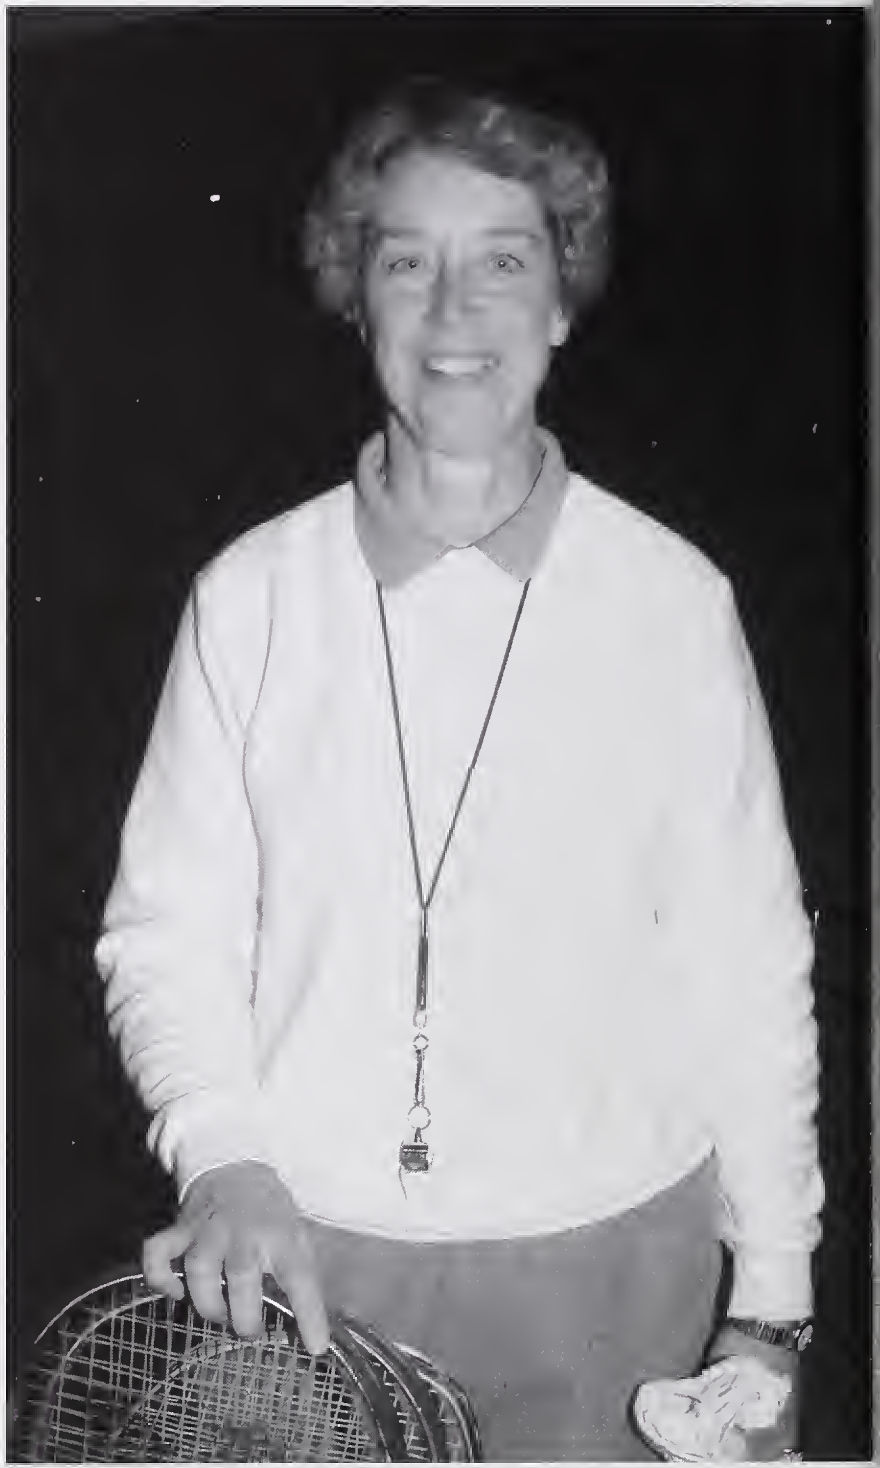
Technology Coordinators

Mrs. Pfeffer

My most embarrassing moment was my first year in public high school after coming from a parochial elementary school. When my teacher called on me to answer I automatically stood up to answer the question. Everyone stared at me and I could hear them giggling.

Mrs. Gallagher

I knew I wanted to be a teacher when I was 10 years old because I used a chalkboard, pointer, and old math books and had a class of stuffed animals.



Mr. Carneiro

My favorite activity on the weekends is watching my son's games.

Mrs. Smith

The worst fashion statement I ever made was when I wore polyester pant suits.

Movement Arts and Wellness

Fine and Performing Arts

Mrs. Cress

I lived in Pugwash, Nova Scotia for eight years and Osceola, Iowa for one year.

Mrs. Tower

The best surprise I ever received was being elected co-captain of my college field hockey team.

Ask Your Teacher!

Why did you become a teacher?

When many high school students consider the career path they want to take, they consider the amount of money they make or the power they'll have. The career path that Mr. Fayle chose fit these requirements. He did computer programming and financial analysis. He worked on the Y2K project and the Euro currency management system. He made a lot of money, but he wasn't happy. He wanted to give something back to society. He knew that he loved history and becoming a teacher would mean giving back to society, so at the age of 48 he became a student teacher here at King Philip. Then he took a year off to go to Dublin, Ireland to go to school. In 2001 Mr. Fayle became a teacher. At first he wanted to become a teacher because he loved history and figured that he would just have to deal with the kids. Now, the reason that he's still teaching is because he loves the kids.

Mrs. Carneiro

I first knew I wanted to be a teacher when I was in college; I was so excited at the possibility of being a teacher I called my parents immediately.

Mrs. Greenleaf

My favorite moment in high school was when I won the New York State Bowling Championship.

Mr. Tileston

The best surprise I ever received was being honored by the Massachusetts Alliance for Arts Education.

Mrs. Winslow

My favorite moment in high school was playing on the tennis team, the annual school varsity show, and field trips with the Latin and ski clubs.

Mrs. Doyle

My most embarrassing moment was when I had a run-in with a large shrub on a busy street while delivering mail this summer.

Mrs. Cannon

My most embarrassing moment ever was when I showed up at a restaurant wearing two different shoes that weren't even the same color.

Mrs. Mullaney

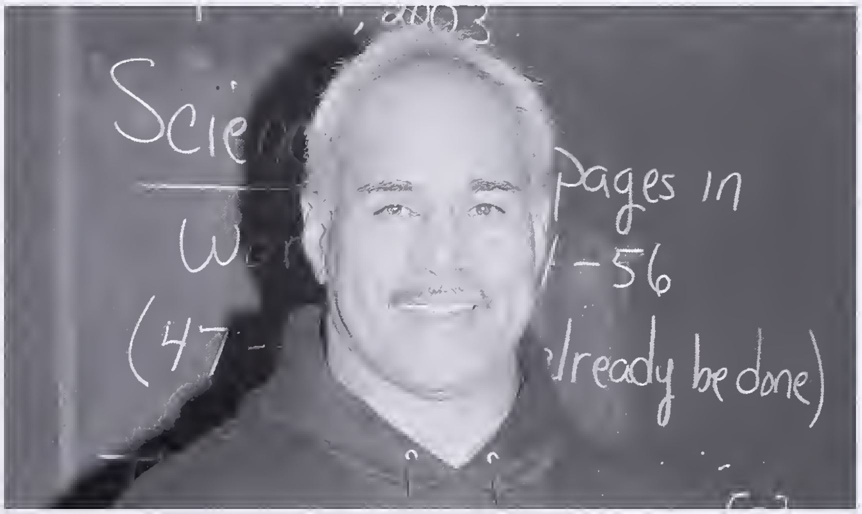
The best surprise I ever received was when my K.P. girlfriends held a surprise fortieth birthday party for me at my own house! They invaded my house while I was at a summer job and surprised me when I got home!

Ms. Marmorstein

My favorite activities on the weekends are gardening, shopping, and being with family, that includes my dogs.

Mr. Tatupu

My favorite activity to do on the weekends is watch the Patriots.



Special Education

Mrs. Buchanio

The best surprise I ever received was a 25th wedding anniversary party at the Chatham Bars Inn.

Mrs. Callanan

My favorite activity to do on the weekends is spend time with my son.

Ask Your Teacher!

Where have you travelled?

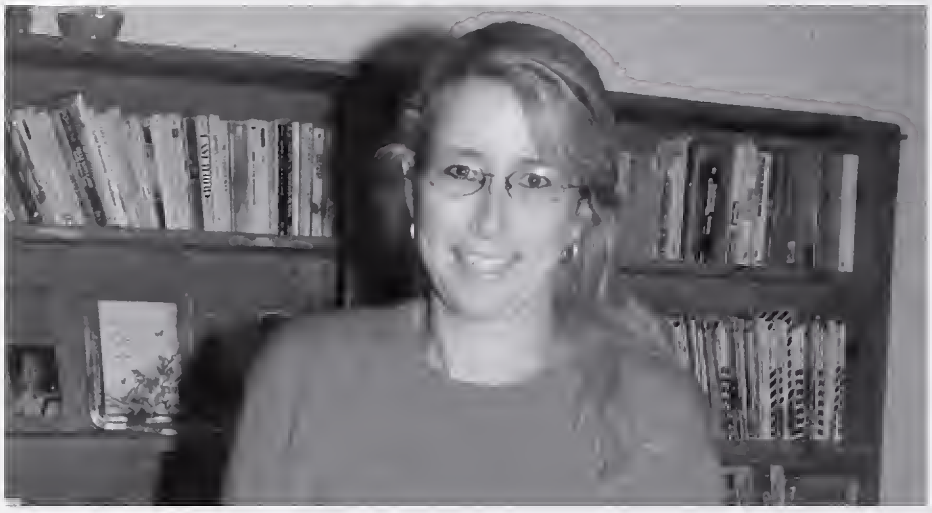
Has something ever turned out differently than you expected? That is what happened when Miss Coutu went to Russia during the 70's. She went because the teacher tour was inexpensive and she thought it would be interesting. And that it was! When they arrived, the tour guide left their entry papers on the plane; they couldn't leave the airport until a city official arrived to allow him to go back onto the tarmac. Everywhere they went, there were soldiers with machine guns. She got chased by one when she stepped into an official street to get a better photo. On their way home, the group's train was stopped just before the border with Finland. Guards came onto the train and ransacked their sleeping compartments. Miss Coutu remembers that the moment the train crossed the Finnish border was one of the happiest moments of her life.

Mrs. Tower

My favorite moment in high school was the National Honor Society induction ceremony in my junior year.

Mrs. Bertram

The worst fashion statement that I ever made was big hair!



Ask Your Teacher!

What was your favorite memory of high school?

There are many challenging and exciting events in high school, whether it is prom, being on a sports team, or meeting your best friend. During their high school years some of our teachers even met their wives or husbands. This happened to both Mr. Runeman and Mrs. Tighe. Mr. Runeman met his wife at a sock hop dance during his junior year. He still considers that sock hop one of the best moments of his life. Mrs. Tighe met her husband during a school performance of Bye, Bye Birdie. They both had the play leads. This happened when both were sixteen and they have been together ever since.

Special Education

Mrs. Tighe

The best surprise I ever received was my doctor's telling me that I was pregnant with twins.

Mrs. Anderson

I loved being in high school. My favorite moments were musicals and singing at Symphony Hall.

Mr. Massotti

My favorite moment in high school was playing for a state championship in basketball at the Providence Civic Center.

Mr. Leonard

My most embarrasing moment was my son's first day of kindergarten. Twenty six moms and I were weeping as the kids went into the school.

Ask Your Teacher!

Have you lived any place other than Massachusetts?

Many of our teachers have lived in other places besides Massachusetts. Ms. Foley, for example, grew up in Rhode Island. When she was in college she lived and worked in Glacier National Park, MT, Yellowstone and Grand Teton National Parks, WY, and Olympic National Park, WA. At each of these parks Ms. Foley would work at the restaurants in the parks and then in her spare time go hiking in the mountains. She remembers that you could bump into a deer just by walking out of your cabin door. Ms. Foley loved these parks so much she named her dog after one. She advises students to go to these parks because they are some of the most beautiful places on earth.

Mrs. Heagney

The best surprise I ever received was when my husband proposed to me!

Student Services

Mrs. Pavao

The best surprise I ever received was on my first Mothers' Day. I received a gold mother and child pendant.

Mr. Keleher

The worst fashion statement I ever made was mistakenly wearing mismatched shoes.

Mr. Young

My worst fashion statement ever was bell bottom pants.

Ms. Foley

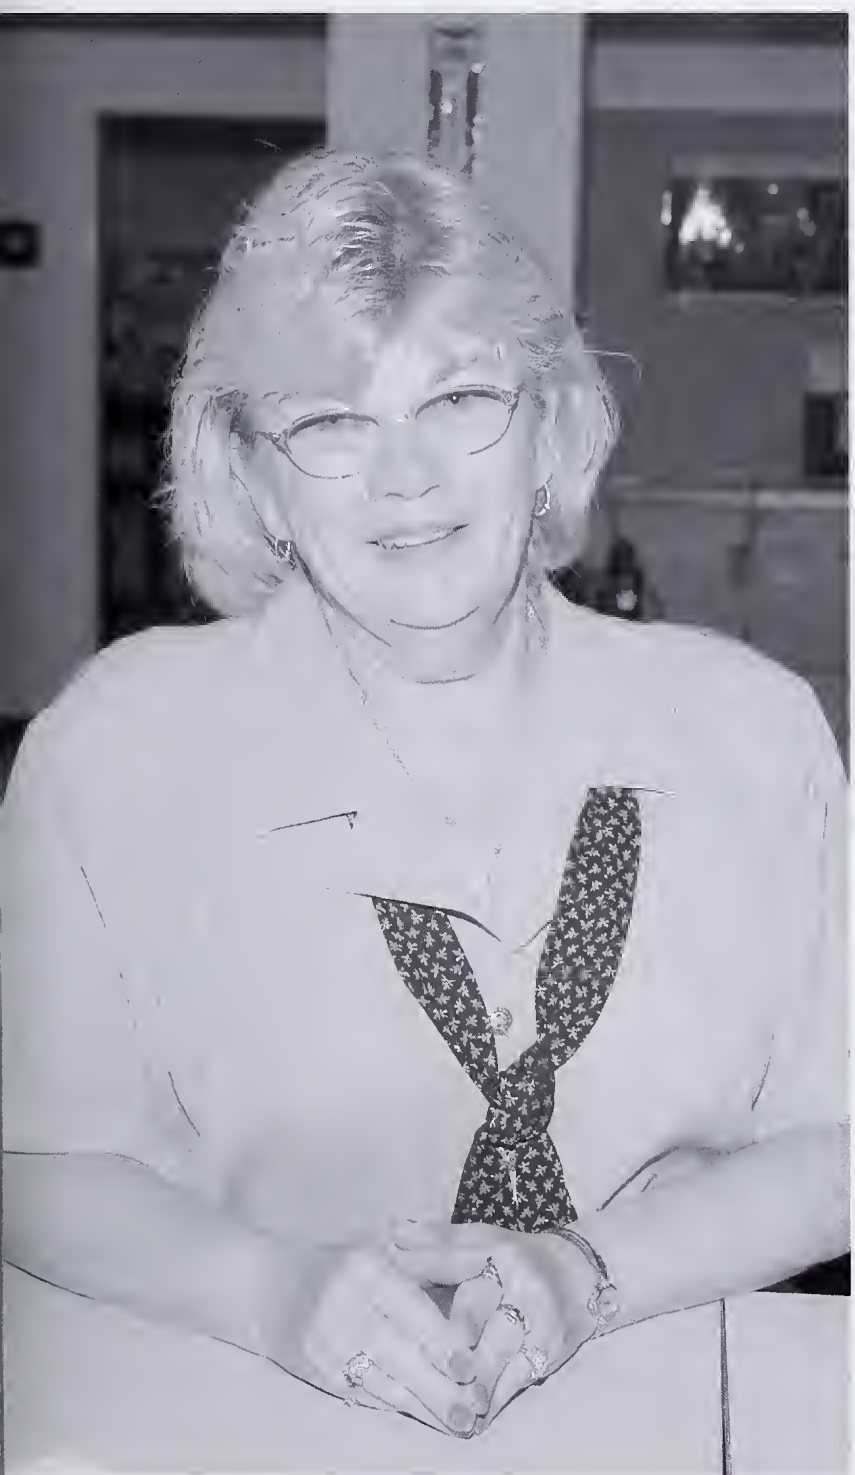
The best surprise I ever received was being named "Teenager of the Year" in high school.

Media Center

Ms. Rumsey

My favorite activity on the weekends is going to the Cape, swimming, nature hikes, and anything doing with nature.

Ms. Scannell



Mrs. Carr

My favorite activity to do on the weekends is spend time with my grandchildren or go to the beach.

Mrs. Solomon

My favorite activity to do on the weekends is spending time at the Cape, going to the beach, and going boating.

Ask Your Teacher!

What other jobs did you hold before you became a teacher?

Many students don't know it, but many of our teachers' first jobs were newspaper routes. Mr. Pultz got his first paper route when he was eight. After school, he would put his newspaper stack over his shoulder and head out to deliver the newspapers to his 35 customers. He usually got a penny from each customer; generous customers would give him a nickel. He could use the nickel to buy a huge candy bar. When another newspaper delivery boy gave up his job, Mr. Pultz and the other kids would fight over who got his houses.

Looking Back and Moving Forward

Spring is one of my favorite seasons. The vibrant colors of the newly blooming flowers are gorgeous. The air is so fresh, and the temperature is just right.

-Ally Savoy

You know that spring is approaching when the snow starts melting away, the days become longer, and the flowers start to bloom. Every year around spring the excitement builds, for summer is just around the corner. But spring is more than just a precursor for summer. April vacation is one of the most anticipated vacations of the year.

Kristen Goulet went to Florida and, of course, visited Disney World, making it her sixth time going. In May, sophomores labor over the dreaded MCAS exams. In June we say goodbye to the seniors and have finals around the corner. But before the year ends, sophomores and juniors look forward to the trip to the Newport Mansions. This field trip has become an annual event here at King Philip. Mr. Fayle, enjoys this experience and believes, the mansions are the finest example that I know of that teach us about the wealth and luxury of the Guilded Age. It is fun to imagine what it would be like to live in such luxury. And what year would be complete without the formal dances, semis and proms? It's hard to keep your mind on academics when so much is happening around you in this exciting season of spring.

The decoration committee did an excellent job disguising the gym. The lights made you feel like you were truly dancing under the stars. I had an awesome time and I can't wait for junior prom.

-Maura Foley

Semis are always a memorable occasion, an opportunity to have fun with friends, show off your dance moves and make wonderful memories. The 2003 Freshman Semi was held on February 28th in the K.P. cafeteria. The theme Hollywood allowed the freshmen to get all glammed up as their favorite actresses or actors and show off their original outfits.

Everyone gets excited around January when the semi is just around the corner. Girls search for the perfect dress and shoes to match, the right hairstyle and especially the perfect date. Everyone looked amazing, Caitlin Chipman and Kate Sutton both were dressed in black, sparkly dresses. The cafeteria was very nicely decorated with silver streamers, film rolls, stars, and a poster of HOLLYWOOD. The freshman officers Allie Cove, Kelly Pasquantonio, Kaelyn Todd and Colleen Beals made this night possible by setting up the cafeteria and making the decorations for the dance. The night was a success and will definitely be remembered. The Sophomore Semi was held on March 14, 2003 in the field house. Under the Stars was the theme and the gym was decorated with Christmas lights, star balloons, and flower centerpieces at each table. It truly was a night to remember.

Getting the perfect date, perfect shoes, perfect hairstyle, and most of all perfect dress is a very tough job many girls face when it's time for the prom. Nicolette Santino went dress shopping for days and could never find a dress that pleased her. She went to at least twelve different stores, and in each store tried on at least ten different dresses. At the end Nicolette said, "Wow! I never realized the prom was such a big ordeal. It seemed that no dress was ever going to please her. Once she found the perfect dress she invited her friends over to show them. Luckily, they all had positive comments on the dress, and she was so excited to finally be one step closer to her perfect night at the prom! She made an appointment to get her hair done and even borrowed shoes from a friend to match her sparkling pink dress. A few days later Nicolette tried on the dress one last time to make sure she was ready for the big night. While practicing her dance moves, Nicolette realized she couldn't move her legs. She ended up tearing her dress! With only a couple of days left before prom night Nicolette once again had to go back out and find a dress. Even though it was a struggle, Nicolette managed to find a dress that she could wear. She finished getting ready with just minutes to spare before her date John Phillips picked her up. Nicolette's experience getting ready for prom was tough, but she still managed to have the best time of her life.

It was my first year going to prom, and it was amazing. It makes all other dances seem so pointless. Even though it took a while to get ready it was well worth it and I cannot wait to go next year.

COUPLES

Two Peas in a Pod

Relationships can be fun, exciting and interesting all at the same time. Some relationships start in a special way. Danielle St. Jean, for example, was asked out by her long-time boyfriend Steve Rando last year on Christmas Day. Steve brought her a dozen roses, and put a card in it asking her to be his girlfriend. Steve was very proud of the romantic nature of the beginning of his relationship with Danielle.

Even after the first date, there can be surprises. All it takes is some imagination. Shannon Bates was surprised by her boyfriend, Nick McEvoy one night. He made her close her eyes all the way to Providence. When they arrived, Nick took her hand and walked her down to the water fires, which surround the Providence River. They walked all around the fires, watching them sparkle and glow. This is the kind of night that makes memories that last forever.

Many people face embarrassing times in their lives that they may not want to look back at. Kayla McCaffrey, for example, sure has an embarrassing story to tell. One day during field hockey practice someone pretended to throw a ball at her and out of instinct she ducked, and ended up falling and bruising her tailbone for weeks. Hayley Hayes also embarrassed herself. She was running to class one day with her hands loaded with books, and had to face the crowded staircase. She ended up falling head over heeal down the stairs until she reached the bottom throwing her books all over the place with papers flying everywhere. She went head over heels down the stairs until she reached the bottom. Everyone stood around laughing at what Hayley had just done. She'll never forget that day.

Sometimes, however, embarrassing things happen that a picture can't be taken of. For instance, Ally Savoy, while joining friends for dinner at The Olive Garden, noticed a boy in the parking lot. She turned to a friend and said, That kid goes to our school! The embarassing part is that she said it so loud that the kid turned around and said, Yes, I do.

The one thing we all have to learn is to laugh at ourselves. Everyone will in some way or another have an embarrassing moment during their lives.

As a gym teacher I try to teach the value of teamwork to all of my students. Through sports we can all learn to support each other as a team, as well as experience a little fun and excitement!
-Mrs. Pfeffer

The dictionary defines teamwork as a cooperative effort by the members of a group or team to achieve a common goal. Through teamwork, work becomes much easier and the game, project, or event can become much more successful. The class of 2006 understood the meaning of the word after a yard sale that they held as a fund raiser over the summer. The idea for a yard sale came up while class officers were discussing ways to make money. All four girls decided that they did not want to sell boxes of candy as other classes have in the past. The big, bulky boxes are a pain to carry and the candy is usually hard to sell. Once the idea was decided on, the girls got straight to work planning the event. They began by asking teachers, parents, and other community members for donations of products to sell. So many people were willing to help with donations that the girls were at first overwhelmed; however, soon other members of the class volunteered their time and effort to help make the yard sale successful. Finally, in late July the group of fifteen students was ready to make money. They arrived at the school at 6 a.m. to set up tables of sale items. Thanks to widespread advertising, the yard sale was a huge success and the class of 2006 ended up raising over $800! The class officers were happy to have raised so much money, and no one had to sell a single box of candy!

This past summer, Kristen LaCava spent a few weeks traveling the West Coast of California with her mom and aunt. During this time they drove the Pacific Coast Highway and saw huge whales swimming right next to their car. She said this was the most memorable trip of her summer. Another student who enjoyed a fantastic vacation this summer was Kayla McCaffrey. She visited the Bahamas where she was escorted around by a 37 year old islander. He showed her all the great parts of his island. She had a fabulous time seeing new things and meeting new people.

Christine Bluhm went to camp in Colorado. She called her family one last time before she left for this exciting week. Christine couldn't wait to spend a week in the Rocky Mountains. Dave McGuire spent his summer taking an SAT class to prepare himself for the difficult test that he will be taking this year. In his free time he went to the beach and played summer baseball. Jon Bullock worked with his uncle doing electric work all summer long. He has now saved up enough money to be able to buy a car. Wes Cameron attended two basketball camps this summer at the University of Maryland and Duke. He enjoyed the Maryland camp more because his team won the championship. They got to play on the last day in front of all the other campers, parents, and most importantly college coaches who had been teaching him all week long. All of these students at King Philip agree that they had the best summer and can't wait until next year!

Throughout the year many people go on amazing and memorable trips. These special vacations can last a lifetime because of the photographs that are taken. Over the summer Jenn Fuller went to Disney World with her mom, grandparents and her close friend Julie Williams for a week. After the week was over she and her mom went on a cruise while her grandparents and Julie flew home. Jenn and her mom traveled to St. Maarten, St. Thomas and Disney's private island Castaway Cay. The boat was huge! It had three dining rooms with black and white pictures that suddenly became colored as as the journey moved on. At the end of dinner, all the pictures were brighty colored. In the bedroom there was a huge porthole where they could see far off into the distance while the boat kept moving. Every night Jenn and her mom went out to explore the ship and see new things. One night they went out to dinner, which had been one of the best things on the ship and came back to find their room all cleaned with the towels arranged into animal shapes. The maid had been cleaning the room and left Jenn and her mom with this pleasant surprise. There was also entertainment each night. Karaoke, dancing, and plays were some of Jenn's favorites. The week spent on the boat was busy, interesting and exciting. Jenn will never forget these two fabulous weeks at Disney World and the cruise.

CAMPS

Can't Wait

Deerfield was so much fun. We learned new skills and got closer as a team.

-Emma Smith

The summer is a time to relax, hang out with friends, and even go to some camps. The cross country team, for example, went to camp on the Cape. They had an amazing time. Coach Hearon brought a stuffed donkey to camp. If the campers acted like a donkey then the next day they had to hold the stuffed animal while running. As a joke the girls in cabin number one stole the donkey and hid it, forcing Coach Hearon to find him. The girls left ransom notes that led to the place where the donkey was hidden. The firepit, bathroom, Coach's car and clothesline were all places that the notes were hidden. Each note included drawings and was signed The Donkey Nappers. Don't let the coach know that the nappers were actually Brittney Lambert, Jen Maloney, Sara Streeter, Holly Cain, Mikaela Callahan and Kristin Keinz. Another camp that members of KP sports went to was Deerfield field hockey camp. The team members had an awesome time improving their skills and catching up with friends. They blasted music and danced all night on the last night of camp. Many of the campers were heard to say that they had had the time of their lives dancing, swimming, and playing field hockey.

Peer mediation training was a great experience; I learned a lot.

Kelly Flanagan

There are many clubs here at King Philip that allow kids to develop leadership skills. Peer mediation is one of them. New members have to go through a three day training session to learn the skills needed to mediate conflicts between students. Throughout the session members do many activities to make them comfortable with the process of mediation. To practice trust they fall into each other's hands. They also do a blind walk; one person is blindfolded and the other guides him around the school. To practice teamwork, students cross arms and try to pull each other up. They also arm wrestle; the winner receives M&M's. This shows that conflict isn't always a bad thing. The goal of mediation is to try to find an agreement which both parties can agree to. However, they don't always have to reach one. Each mediator receives a book full of information for review and study guides which they use to practice situations between mediators and disputants. They also learn exactly what needs to be done in the mediation room. Before ending the program everyone takes an oath of confidentiality not to repeat any information revealed during negotiations. After the workshop, students like Molly Hall felt comfortable with the new responsibility each had taken on.

During the Fall at King Philip many events such as History Day, National French Day, Mole Day and, this year, Mr. KPHS take place. The student body enjoys each of these events; many students participate in these each year.

Mr. KPHS was brought back by popular demand. Many guys competed to be crowned King of the School. They were eliminated one by one after each activity: singing, dancing, and strutting their stuff. The winner, Jared Cacciapaglia, received the crown that made him king. The most memorable act was by Kyle Moore and Anthony DeLaiarro who dressed up as Richard Simmons and did a workout session with the senior girls. They had the whole outfit-from sweat bands, to stretch pants. Anthony even sported a sparkly orange wig.

Another event, Mole Day, took place this year on October 23rd. Chemistry students had to complete group projects and bring in food for the celebration. During the day students played games and solved mole problems in order to get their icecream sundaes.

During National French Day, Ms. Figueiredo prepared a variety of French foods, and invited speakers to come in to speak French to the students. Students played games and learn more about French culture.

Freshmen, sophomores and juniors participated in National History Day which came this year at the beginning of November. Students presented their projects to teachers and other students. It was amazing to see the wide variety of projects considering that everyone started with the same theme.

Fall at KP brings not only traditional classes, but also projects and learning events that help to make school more enjoyable.

History Day turned out to be a great success for me this year. I enjoyed learning about world history.

Each Saturday I can learn new things about each animal, while I enjoy everything about it.
-Laura Pelrine

It's last period on Friday and noone can wait for school to get out. The bell rings and everyone excitedly dashes for the door knowing that the weekend has begun. As everyone collects their books from their lockers and chats with friends, they imagine what the weekend has in store. This is everyone's favorite time, filled with parties, movies, or just relaxing with friends. There are endless possibilities to spend your weekend, like catching the King Philip football team in action or the marching band performing. Your weekend could also be spent volunteering at different Leo club or student council activities.

Laura Pelrine spends her Saturdays working with animals at World War I Memorial Zoo in North Attleboro. For the last two years Laura has been a zoo attendant and has taken care of goats, horses, donkeys, deer, and pigs. She feeds, cares for, and grooms these animals each week. She says, I love animals. They are so cute and friendly. I enjoy going each Saturday to take care of them by feeding, grooming and cleaning up after them. By doing this I feel like I have contributed a lot to the community and the animals. Each Saturday I can learn new things about each animal while I enjoy everything about it.

Other people like Eric Whitehouse spend their weekends running to stay ahead of the other cross country runners. When he's not running, he spends his time in bed sleeping to prepare himself for the next long week of school.

SPIRIT

GO KP!

Chris Voght

I was glad to represent the senior class, but they didn't let me finish the pie.
-Chris Voght

The King Philip Warriors are known for their spirit and pride. Every year they get to show their spirit during Spirit Week. Each day there is a new category: Monday starts the week with Pajama Day, followed by Hawaiian Day, Class Colors Day, and finally, Green and Gold Day. On Friday comes the rally when the freshmen hear for the first time, Go home freshmen, being loudly chanted. The rally starts with the cheerleaders' performing their routines. Then, the homecoming king and queen are announced along with their court. The 2003 Homecoming king was Joel Lee. The Queen was Carlee Kurkjian. The court included Kelly Winslow, Reid Eichelberger, John Chaves and Katelyn Lorimer. The cheerleaders then invited the fall captains onto the floor to dance to Bootydrop. The pie-eating contest followed with each class's having a representative. Rob Hall represented the freshmen, Kate Sutton the sophomores, Alex Leonard the juniors and Chris Voght the seniors. They got their faces filled with blueberry pie and their bellies full. Chris Voght took home the gold for the senior class. At the end of the rally the seniors were declared the winners of spirit week. This announcement made it official that seniors never really fall.

The student council's job is to get the student body involved in the school and the community. This year the student council organized a new event called Mr. KPHS. To become Mr. KPHS, a guy had to prove to the student body that he had the most school spirit. The winner of the 2003 Mr. KPHS was Jared Cacciapaglia.

The council also organized a car wash in the beginning of the year as a fund raiser. The car wash was a great success. Not only did the council earn money, but members also learned to work together. As a team the council had to rinse the cars off using two hoses. Then they had to make sure they scrubbed the whole car using sponges and soap. And finally they had to make sure that they rinsed the whole car off, leaving no soap. This way there would not be any streaks. The student council also had to work rapidly in order to prevent a long line of waiting cars from forming. However, it wasn't all work and no play. There were a number of bubble fights. One serious battle involved Amie Nickerson and Kaitlyn Winter. Unlike most fights, there was no winner. Both Amie and Kaitlyn ended up covered from head to toe in bubbles and had clothes that were completely drenched with water. Of their many fund raisers, this was probably the most successful and definitely the most fun!

Homecoming started off with Spirit Week, which got everyone pumped up for the pep rally and dance on Friday night. The Homecoming Day game, as always, was on Saturday. This year, the Warriors could not wait to beat Sharon in front of a giant crowd, even though it was bitterly cold. During the half time, the King and Queen were announced along with their court. It is a tradition here at K.P. for the girls to wear formal gowns at the game. To everyone's surprise Katelyn Lorimer and Carlee Kurkjian wore the same maroon sparkled dress. And contrary to popular opinion, they never planned to come dressed as twins. Katelyn said she had a feeling about the dress but bought it anyway because it was so pretty. Later they found out that Kelly Winslow almost wore exactly the same dress. Her mom looked at many dresses and almost ended up buying that one. According to Kelly, her mom even had it in her hand at the store. What a coincidence. However, she bought a black halter dress instead. It just goes to prove that a beautiful dress stands out and that these lovely young women would have looked stunning no matter what they wore.

I firmly believe that any man's finest hour,
the greatest fulfillment he holds dear,
is when he lays exhausted on victorious.

DRAMA, G.A.P.S., CHORUS

All the world's a stage, And all the men and women merely players.

King Philip offers a variety of ways for students to express themselves creatively. The chorus strives for perfection in reading and singing choral music. They meet once a day during the school day. This is a very intense class. As soon as the bell rings, Mr. Tileston begins the class with warm-up exercises and continues with no interruptions. One of the most involved and complicated songs performed this year was the Hallelujah Chorus. Kristen Quartarone, Lizzie Abbate, and Eric Whitehouse were given the honor of going to the Massachusetts Choral District. Last year, the KP Chorus went to the M.I.C.C.A. Competition and scored a silver medal! It just goes to show that hard work and dedication, as well as talent, can bring honors to the students and their school.

Another area where KP's most creative students can show off their talents is in drama, not only in acting, but also in the sets, lighting and sound produced by the stage technicians of GAPS. They build the sets, take care of the lighting and sound, and help out backstage during a performance. One thing that they should all be commended for is their extra sturdy sets. They are made out of two by sixes instead of the average two by fours and three quarter ply wood. Due to their unrelenting efforts to give both the audience the full effect of the show and the actors a safe environment, GAPS has never had a set fall.

As shown above, the stage sets of the King Philip GAPS are not only well-built, but they provide a structure and an appeal to the audience that make the play its very best.

KP PRIDE

From Start to Finish

Spirit Week is the best week to enjoy going all out and dressing up to impress your classmates and more importantly to have a good time.
-Sarah Kennedy

Most students at KP would agree that school spirit makes the school year more fun and exciting. The students can look forward to events such as Spirit Week and the pep rally before the Homecoming game, as well as other events like Mr. KPHS and Star Day. Despite all of these events, however, the students often feel the most spirit during everyday sporting events. When the girls' soccer team made it to the South Sectionals, for example, many students came to cheer on their friends and sisters. Kara Basque recalls, It was so exciting when we arrived at the South Sectionals and saw all of our friends and family waiting for us as we got off the bus. The whole team was excited already to have made it so far, but it felt even better to know we had so many fans! Hockey games have also been a place where students have shown their spirit. The KP-Franklin game, for example, is always an exciting game filled with intense rivalries. Everyone makes sure to wear sweatshirts that sport the KP logo and cheer their loudest. This year the student council recognized so much spirit at events and games that they decided to add in another mini spirit week to lighten the students' spirits before midyear exams. The week gave students yet another chance to show their pride through three days: tie dyed day, crazy hair day, and Patriots' day. Each day the four classes competed to have the most spirit. The week was competitive, but also fun and full of KP pride!

Marching band, is the best activity that I have participated in while at K.P. I love the excitement you cause for the audience when they hear your performance.

-Carolyn Fitzpatrick

The King Philip Marching Band has a reputation for excellence. Led by Mr. Tileston, for many years now, the band continues to win awards and invitations to play at some interesting events. Last spring, for example, most of the members of the musical program went to Florida. It was a five day trip that was absolutely amazing. I loved visiting the different parks and especially taking time out of school, said Diane Girouard. They marched down Main Street, USA in the Magic Kingdom. They also visited MGM Studios, Animal Kingdom, Epcot, and Blizzard Beach. It wasn't all fun and games, however. A lot of hard work went into preparing the band and chorus for this wonderful opportunity.

Another amazing accomplishment of the band was that it was able to record the music for a soundtrack for the movie, Tarzan. This was an exciting and fun-filled experience for everyone because not many people get to play music for a Disney movie. It all goes to prove that dedication, hard work, and practice can pay off.

The first signs that winter is approaching are the shorter days, cold nights, and snowflakes that trickle down in the middle of the night. The snow is exactly what the kids in the ski club look forward to. Every year Mrs. Tower takes students on two ski trips. The first ski trip this year was held at Sugarbush, Vermont from January sixteenth through the eighteenth. The snow started coming down hard as the group made their way north in a luxury bus. Although the trip was long, it didn't seem that bad because they got to watch two movies along the way. The group spent the weekend at the Best Western Hotel. That night some hit the pool while others just hung out in their rooms. The next day everyone was up early for the long day of skiing. The mountain had everything from beginner to advanced slopes. Some like Bryan Healey were even brave enough to venture down the black diamonds. The trip was a success. Brian Briselli said, I had a great time. I tried new trails I had never tried before like the black diamond. It was definitely worth the money. Mrs. Tower was also pleased with the trip. She said, the trip was especially good because of the behavior and fun-personalities of the students who went.

It was a very memorable experience.
I had a lot of fun.
If you ski or snowboard,
I definitely recommend it.

Work, Will, Win

Winter guard may appear to be easy to an amateur; however, this activity is quite challenging. This group of hard workers practices roughly twelve hours a week. They work with sabers, rifles, and flags. For each prop, there is an expertly choreographed routine. At each practice color guard members spend at least forty-five minutes of practice time stretching so that they don't pull any muscles. At the beginning of each practice they have to twirl their flags many times in order to prepare for the routines. This year there are two guards, varsity and junior varsity. Each practices diligently to prepare for upcoming competitions. They do a small part of their routine over and over again until the entire team is perfectly in sync. To some members of the guard, the preview show is a great time to have fun and show off what they have been working hard on for the past month or so. Everyone who goes loves to watch their performances. The audience can really appreciate all the hard work and dedication that the winter guard puts into their routines. Last year winter guard won a first place title. This year they are trying their hardest to do better. Their goal is to achieve what seems impossible for some people, to win every single competition they enter. In order to accomplish that goal they are going to have to work even harder than they did last year. The guard also hopes to do well at the world championships in San Diego.

Being in winter guard gives you a chance to become friends with upper classmen. There is a great sense of friendship between all the members of the team.

OVERTIME

After Hours

I like staying after in the media center, because it gives me a good place to do my research projects, without having to go to someone's house.

Caroline Taylor

The school day doesn't end at 2:25 for most students or teachers at KP. Everyday there are many students who stay with their teachers to get extra help, or to make up work. Students also can be found working in the media center. There they can explore the Internet for research, work with members of a group, or just spend some quiet time. However students are not always after school for academic reasons. Some stay after to hang out with friends, or for detention. Being able to stay after allows students to end their day without feeling rushed. They can take their time leaving. But what happens when you don't have your license, or your parents can't pick you up? Well lucky for you KP provides late buses for those who stay after. They come every day at 3:00 except for Fridays. Most students, in fact, can remember many good times they had staying after school. But it's not just students who stay after; there are also many teachers. They use this time to catch up on correcting papers, doing grades, or planning the lessons they will be teaching in the days to come. But don't just look in their rooms. Teachers are all over the building after school Some use the media center to do research and to use the photocopying machines. Others sit in the teachers' room unwinding after a hectic day. And still others man the telephones and write email to parents who want updates on their children's progress. KP is definitely a busy place after 2:30.

Christmas is definitely the best being an only child. I'm the one who gets all the presents.
- John Parker

Celebrations, whether birthdays or holidays, are always a lot of fun. Some celebrations include surprises, like the birthday surprise that awaited Jen Malcolm when her friends threw her a surprise 16th birthday party. Her sister and her mom kept her out the whole day, while all her friends and family filled her house with decorations, gifts, and food. Jen's reaction to the surprise was priceless; she and her friends had a wonderful time at the party.

Other people like John Parker consider Christmas morning to be the best celebration of the year. John and his family always wake up bright and early to find Christmas surprises and presents all around the house. His parents fill the house with presents all night long then get little sleep that night.

Alison Cobb loves the Fourth of July. She always has friends over to her house to light sparklers, sing patriotic songs, and most importantly to have a huge cookout. All night long they celebrate around the campfire and roast marshmallows to make s'mores. Alison and her friends stay up all night playing board games and swimming in the pool.

It doesn't matter which celebration is your favorite. What is important is that you spend it with people you enjoy being with. Make your celebrations memorable because these are the most valuable times in your life.

Being a twin is something that is very special. Having the ability to switch places and know what the other is thinking is rare for the rest of us, yet common to twins. When the Wencus twins were in elementary school they switched places on April Fool's Day. Lauren's class had a substitute teacher so Amanda had no problem adjusting. However, Lauren had to take three of Amanda's tests that she had that day. She did not know any of the information and failed each one. Still, the teachers never found out. They both agree that, being able to pretend you are the other twin and act like her is the best part. But as twins enter high school surely they have had such a variety of experiences that each is unique. Maybe, but for identical twins the mystery can still go on. Unless one wears her hair differently, has braces, or wears glasses, even other siblings can't tell them apart. Just ask the Miller brothers which is Lauren and which is Bridget. Even they can't tell. (Hint: Lauren has bangs.) The other aspect of being a twin that is hard for non-twins to fathom is the closeness of these siblings. The Spinney twins feel that they can sense if something is wrong with the other even if they are not physically close. When Beth went to New York with her mom, she took a bad fall. Eileen felt something was wrong so she kept calling her mom. When she finally got in touch with her, she found out that Beth had fallen and hurt herself. Only twins could have such a strong connection.

Being a twin is great;
it's like having a best friend that you can always count on to be there.

Getting Down To Business

The week you get back from Christmas break the teachers announce that the midterms are two weeks away. Two weeks to study everything you have learned since September! Some students bring their books home to get a head start on studying. Yet, the majority of the students cram the weekend before. Cramming may help some people. However, they usually don't remember it in the long run. Reviewing tests, quizzes and notes are the most helpful. Most teachers take questions from previous tests. Chelas Poirier admits that due to her hectic schedule she waits until the weekend before to study. She doesn't sweat it, though. She does well anyway. You have two hours to take a test that usually contains about two hundred questions. During exam week you get a fifteen minute snack break between exams. Once your seventh period exam is over you take a deep breath, the tests are all over for now—until the last week of school, which brings finals. For most, it covers everything you have learned after the midterm. However, some teachers include information you learned way back in September. In any event, you really know that teacher in June, and besides, you've got a whole summer to recover—before it starts all over again.

I love the feeling of being able to throw away all of your stuff from the first half of the year.

The K.P.'s DECA students can be seen behind the cash registers at the K.P. Mini Mall during lunch. Every year they go to a conference to learn about their upcoming project for the year. This year they attended the North Atlantic Regional Conference in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania during the week of November thirteenth through sixteenth. Schools all over New England attend these conferences. Our students had to wake up bright and early on Thursday to catch the bus at six o'clock in Foxboro. Then they headed straight to Logan Airport. They arrived in Philadelphia and took the train to the Marriott hotel, where they stayed. The rooms were not ready so they went out to lunch and shopped. After returning to the hotel some rooms were still not ready. Luckily, those people got free room service because it took over four hours to get the rooms ready. They were then able to unpack and check the hotel out. The Marriott was beautiful; it included a gym, pool, hot tub, steam room and sauna. There was even a five-story mall connected to it. The second day, everyone went sight seeing and then to see the Philadelphia 76ers vs. the San Antonio Spurs. The 76ers won. After the game they had an opening session with a motivational speaker to welcome them. The third day began with several sessions that motivated the kids to become active leaders in their school and got kids excited about making a difference. The third day ended with a dance.

The Metacomet staff is made up of students who love to write. They work hard to produce four newspapers. Beth Bukis, a first year staff member, explains, I love to have people see all the hard work we put into it and enjoy reading our articles. She writes reviews of the latest movies. This year she has already written reviews of School House Rock and Mona Lisa Smile. It is the perfect job for her because she loves to watch movies and to share her insights with others. The newspaper also includes current events, school activities and a creative page. This creative page is a favorite for many students; it includes poetry and artwork submitted by students. Sarah Kennedy, Kristen Lawler and Julie Williams, three of the most active members, would all love to see the club turned into a journalism class. Julie says, I would definitely take the class and I think it would be very popular. Two other clubs, Sachem and the Chieftain, also involve writing and imaginative thinking. Sachem is a literary magazine filled with poetry and artwork. For many it is the only place they can showcase their creative talents. The Chieftain is King Philip's yearbook. Students learn how to do desk top publishing in a class. Before, during, and after school the staff members put in long hours to produce a book that all of KP can be proud of. None of these publications would ever see the light of day without the hard work, talent, and skills of their staffs and the expertise of their advisors.

The Father Daughter Dance, held this year at Luciano's, turned out to be a huge success. The night began with a fine dinner and background music played by the DJ. Everyone looked stunning in their formal wear, including Alisha Plante, who had just bought a brand new red dress for the occasion. Unfortunately, the night does not always run as smoothly as planned. While adjusting the halter strap of her dress at dinner, the metal buckle fell to the ground, causing the front of Alisha's dress to almost fall. She screamed and luckily was able to hold up the dress before anything was revealed. A waitress brought a safety pin to the table and Alisha's friend Chelas Poirier was able to pin the straps back together so that Alisha would not have to hold the dress throughout the entire night. She still remembers how she felt. My dress experience was the most embarrassing moment ever. All I could think of was what all the dads must have thought about me. In the end, however, everyone was able to laugh about the incident and Alisha could dance without worrying. The DJ this year was great at getting all the dads to dance with their daughters, and to learn new line dances such as the Cotton Eyed Joe, the Cha-Cha Slide and the Macarena. He also had the dads teach their daughters dances from their younger years. The girls and their fathers had a wonderful time and can't wait until next year!

During the year, Leo club members take part in many events to help serve the community, events such as donating to homeless shelters, coat and blanket drives, and helping raise money for cancer patients. They are also known for putting on events such as the ever popular Senior Senior Prom and Christmas Dinner. Senior Senior Prom is for the elderly. Residents of nearby nursing homes are invited to this very special party. They are brought to KP on buses. Leo club members prepare a full course meal for them while a DJ is hired to play music and keep the elders entertained. The Leo club members even dance with the seniors teaching them modern dances such as the Cotton Eyed Joe. Dinner and dessert round out the evening. It's no wonder that this event is so well attended every year. Another event for the Leo club is the Stoneybrook Fair. During the fair Leo club members are assigned jobs. A popular event is the pony rides, where Leo members help collect tickets from the kids and get them onto the horses. Stoneybrook Fair lasts the whole day, and people of all ages attend. This fair is a big success, due in part, to the hard work and dedication of the Leo club members. If anyone is interested in volunteer work, good fun, and camaraderie, then he or she should look into the Leos. They provide a service to their community that can't be beat.

The National Honor Society held a grand induction ceremony this year. The members were judged on the basis of community service they participate in, their leadership qualities, academic achievements and their essays describing their short and long term goals. Only forty out of more than one hundred students who had been invited to apply, were accepted into the organization. During the ceremony five candles of different colors were lit. The yellow candle represents scholarship and the academic achievements of the students. Character is symbolized by the green candle. The white candle in the middle stands for the knowledge of the student. The red candle represents service to the comunity, school, and family. Leadership is symbolized in the last purple candle. Megan Wyman, one of the inductees, explains how excited she was to be inducted. My whole family was there. I felt really proud because they were proud of me, too. Membership in NHS is important for many reasons. First, colleges recognize this honor bestowed upon students; they know that the choices are made by the members of the faculty who know the students best. Second, just winning a spot in this prestigious group helps a student to realize his self worth. And finally, with membership comes the responsibility to be a student leader at King Philip and in the community. After all, this is a service organization as well as being an honor society. All members must take part in service projects.

The King Philip folk group gets together weekly to play American, Celtic, and Canadian folk music. This is a new program that was started this year and is just for the enjoyment of the students who play in it. Being at practice is not a necessity, although, the more people there are, the more the music flows. Mr. Grover and Alex Bluhm lead on fiddle and banjo respectively. Nick Fontana, Bryan Glickstein, and Dana Lasher provide devilish rhythms on guitar. Every once in a while, when they're lucky, they get a bit of slide guitar from Tim Huth. Add to this Trevor McGill's energetic mandolin and Derek Koziol's grounding bass and you get one nasty group.

Not all music bands here at King Philip are as laid back as the folk band. Jazz and symphony bands, for example, require dedication and a passion for music. Both groups are directed by Mr. Tileston. The symphony band has won gold medals for the past five years at the state competition. With the gold medal comes the honor of playing at Symphony Hall in Boston in the spring. The jazz ensemble also competes by sending a tape to the Duke Ellington Jazz Competition. First prize is an invitation to play at Lincoln Center in New York. King Philip won this honor in 2001. Not many schools of our size can brag about two great bands.

Dear Chieftain,

Playing in my first varsity baseball game was awesome. It was great to finally start playing after waiting all year. We played Canton that day and it was a great game. The game was close and everyone was into the game and excited. It was 2 to 1, Canton ahead, for the majority of the game, but we tied it up in the bottom of the seventh with my base hit up the middle. I was nervous being up at bat in such a tough spot, but I tried to relax and fortunately hit the ball back up the middle for a hit. We ended up losing the game 3 to 2, but it was awesome playing on varsity as a sophomore. I'll never forget my first varsity baseball game.

Sincerely,

Craig Turner

Softball

Dear Chieftain,

The 2003 softball season was amazing. Although we didn't win it all, placing in the state was better than we'd done in a while! In softball, pitching is a prime factor. With good pitching you have a very good chance of doing well. Aimee Kern and Krissy Crisafi were KP's aces. However one person couldn't win the game by herself. It took a team effort with Beth Bailey at third base, Heather Cassidy at short stop, and Christina Powers at second base. This was a strong infield. But we can't forget the outfield! Without their amazing fielding skills those hard hits to the outfield would just go on and on. Support is also a big factor on a successful team. The parents' cheering on the sidelines and Mr. Cassidy's constant "That's my girl!" really made us work harder. It's also important to mention the help we got during states from members of the junior varsity team. Without teamwork, hard work, and good pitching a team cannot be successful.

Sincerely,
Aime Nickerson

Girls' Lacrosse

Dear Chieftain,

It is unbelievable what an incredible 2003 season we had! As our second year as a varsity lacrosse team we swept through the regular season undefeated and became league champions in the Hockomock. We made it all the way to the South Sectionals, where we were unfortunately defeated in double overtime by one point scored by the defending state champions. Although we had many memorable moments on the field, our time together off the field was just as fun. Our team bonded through spaghetti dinners, making fun of our coach Ms. Walker, and supporting other sports together.

We scored first; then they scored to tie it up. We were coming on strong with our defense and offense. Franklin scored again, but we came back and scored. It went on like this for the duration of the game. We were putting up a good fight. The game was almost over and it was all tied up. Unfortunately, we ended up losing 9 to 8, but next year we are going to beat them for sure.

Dear Chieftain,

After much anticipation during tryouts and hard work on the courts, the tennis season finally came to an end. Although the team was saddened by the ending of the year, we were satisfied by the way we had played and were excited for the year ahead. I have so many memories that I will carry with me for the rest of my life. One of my favorites was sneaking out of the bathroom windows at our rival school. But I also remember talking with everyone and giving each other advice. As a team we excelled at working, talking, and laughing together. By playing the game of tennis we have all discovered the meaning of true sportsmanship, but even more important, the meaning of friendship. We will always be there for each other when one of us needs someone to talk to. Growing close as a team and making new friends every season is always something to look forward to. I know that this year and every year of tennis will be exciting and that I will add to last year's memories people and events that I will never forget.

Diane Caffrey

Dear Chieftain,

I have been a part of the King Philip track program now for three years. I moved to Norfolk in the middle of my freshman year. I did not get involved in any sports that year because I was too shy. I was discovered in my gym class during the track unit. Mr. Boucher immediately recruited me to sprint for the team. I started my track career in the winter of my sophomore year. It was a new experience for me and I enjoyed the program thoroughly. At the end of my first track season, I was named newcomer of the year along with Aimee Kern. Track gave me a confidence in myself that I never knew I had. It was an individual sport where the outcome was totally in my control. If I was ready to run, I ran and if I was disappointed, I knew what I had to do to fix my mistake. I also participated in spring track, also an excellent program, during my junior year. After this season I was elected by the team as a captain. I felt honored and proud of myself that my hard work and dedication to the team was rewarded with the position of captain. The track program has been an enjoyable experience for me and I can only hope that you will enjoy it as much as I did.

Boys' Track

Dear Chieftain,

Outdoor track is a great sport. My favorite memories of outdoor track would be the one mile and the two mile, the team itself, and Coach Boucher. The season started off kind of bad for me; I wasn't the best runner. But the great people on the team and Coach Boucher got me into it and I got better. Eventually we started running meets. My favorite meet was the Class C Relay Meet. I think I ran my best time there for the one mile and the two mile. I ran the two mile almost every single meet. It was, and still is, my favorite event. On the day of the two mile, freshman-sophomore meet it was pouring rain. We got there to find out the meet was still going on. Most of us stayed on the bus, but some of us went to the tent to cheer on our teammates. I went back and forth. My event, the two mile, didn't go on until half way through the meet. I was in the tent talking with Coach Boucher when the call came on, "last call all boys' two milers!" Without stretching, I ran to the starting line and got my number. I was soaked before I even got to the line. I stretched a little, but not enough. The gun went off. I started running around the track. By the fourth lap my legs started hurting, but I kept going. All I could hear was Coach Boucher cheering me on and encouraging me to run faster and I did. Despite the rain and the pain in my legs, I finished the race strongly in my best time ever. I think it was all due to one factor, Coach Boucher, a good coach and a good friend. He was the one who got me into running so I thank him. Those are my favorite outdoor track memories and the person who helped me along the way.*

Fall Cheerleading

Dear Chieftain,

There is so much to say about this cheerleading season it would take too long to write. We've had so many laughs and plenty of tears. From our Papa Gino's 'All You Can Eat Nights' to our promotions for the Jamboree, there were more laughs than ever. We had our cheerleading camp with Jason Manhart, which kept us laughing with his overuse of the word 'Guys'; we also laughed about our crazy nickname for Jess Cassle and Michaela Burke's extended vocabulary, but cheerleading wasn't always laughs. We took this season seriously. We had five libs, more than we've ever had. We showed off our great dance at the Cheerleading Jamboree. As a senior I'll never forget all the fun we had this season. Cheering for a winning football team was a great feeling. Watching our boys win game after game was the best. This year was tough, though, without our fellow cheerleader Teala Satterfield. I know she's watching over us and I'm sure she's proud of what we've accomplished. Many thanks to the coaches, Mrs. McCann and Mrs. Buchanio and the rest of the girls for this awesome season!

Dear Chieftain,

This cross country season has been great! All the girls have worked really hard at practice every day, which really comes in handy when running in a meet. Sometimes looking forward to a meet, however, does not mean actually looking forward to running. After meets the girls enjoy eating, singing KP cheers, and hanging out. Bus rides home are fun, too, filled with laughing and singing Disney tunes. Despite what many people think, cross country is not entirely made up of running.

The girls are friends outside of practice, too. In addition to spaghetti dinners and goofing off after practice, this year we held our first annual girls-only cross country sleepover. The night started out with lots of junk food as we went into the hot tub. Later, once we dried off, we did typical silly girl things, such as decorating our sports bras with green and gold glitter paint, sporting our new motto, 'Support yourself and support others,' and later in the evening we all got freaked out by a scary movie! It was a fun-filled night of team bonding, and a great way to start our season! I will be very sad next year when I am no longer part of the cross country team. I will, however, be sure to visit as often as possible.

Dear Chieftain,

Records can be deceiving. Although 4-4, our team has had a great season, especially considering we are in perhaps the toughest league in the state. With every foe, we became faster and stronger, both mentally and physically. We later came to beat some of the teams who took victories from us earlier in the season. Along with our returning veteran runners, we also have a good number of underclassmen who really stepped it up to get key points. This Saturday, November 8th, by being one of the top five finishing teams, our team will have qualified to go to All-States for the third year in a row—not just the boys' team but also the girls'. This is our team's continuing tradition.

Dear Chieftain,

To prepare for the season we had captains' practices all summer and went to camp at Deerfield Academy. We also had a start off cookout at the end of August. The season was both a winning and losing one, but every day the whole team put in 100% in effort. Facing our most competitive opponents proved our ability to work as a team and our desire to win. We played our best against teams such as Mansfield, Canton, and Foxboro. Our team bonded extremely well. All three teams, varsity, junior varsity, and freshman, joined as a whole and learned from one another. We ended the season with our annual gourmet candle light dinner at Coach Tower's house, which we love!! I hope everyone enjoyed the 2003 season and I will miss all the fun times we had! Football

Dear Chieftain,

Our football season this year was one to remember. After bouncing back from two consecutive losing seasons, our team finally has something to talk about. The season was one of a kind. We started off the season playing a Division One team, Malden Catholic, which now we know was an overrated team. I'm sure all of us went into the game feeling nervous, but as the score would show, we came out victorious. This victory set the tone for the games to come. Every week following the first game, we wouldn't get respect from anyone, but we proved them all wrong. Great season guys!

Sincerely,

Jon Burgess

Dear Chieftain,

The 2003 golf season was very enjoyable. Playing for the golf team helped me to excel in a sport that I love to play. I learned how to play my best in every match with the help of all the members of the team. The best part about being on the golf team was playing almost everyday after school which really helped to lower my scores. Being together all the time helped us bond as a team and we began to become good friends. We had a very good season in 2003 and we are hoping for the 2004 season to be even better. The seniors on the team added so much. They not only gave me great advice, but they also lent their support to the whole team. They will be greatly missed next fall and we hope losing them won't hurt us too badly.

Dear Chieftain,

Through a season of ups and downs, there was one thing that made the girls sure they would win a game: signs. Throughout the season the girls saw license plates, had dreams, and saw street signs they considered the 'sign for a win.' Before the Oliver Ames game, junior Kaitlin Lamothe, saw a license plate that said 'KP-32.' Kaitlin's jersey number is 32 and with 2 minutes left in that game, she scored the winning goal which helped the girls beat Oliver Ames for the first time in five years! The game that showed the most signs of winning was the first round game of the tournament, at Dighton-Rehobeth. While the bus was stopped at a light, junior Brittney O'Hara stood up and yelled, 'Look there's King Philip Street!' The team went crazy and started cheering. As the ride went on, we passed 'The KP Diner,' and 'Greg's Restaurant,' (Greg is our coach's first name). The team went on to win the game against Dighton-Rehobeth 2-1 in a shoot out. The superstitions and pre-game rituals are all part of the girls' soccer tradition, but this season it was unlike anything else!

Sincerely,

To my surprise, some underclassmen really stepped it up this year and played up to the varsity potential. Even though we lost to Somerset in the quarter-finals, we played a good game. It is sad to think that it is the last game some seniors will play, but we lost with honor. I know we will all carry that King Philip pride throughout our lives.

I have had many great experiences this season as the captain of the King Philip hockey team. Recently we defeated Canton for the first time in twenty one years and I would have to say that has been my favorite memory. This hockey team is said to be one of the best in school history and I hope that our successful season continues. Joe Cameron

My favorite memory in gymnastics this year was our team sleepover. We had a lot of laughs, especially because my crazy cat, Charles, was scaring everyone. Also, we had plenty of fun times at practices when Rachel White split the beam, Ali Mulcahy fell on her stomach, Kim fell everywhere, Katie Nickerson fell over the bars, I fell on my face, and Kaleigh ran into the vault. Girls' Basketball

Dear Chieftain,

The King Philip girls' basketball team was extremely successful last year and lost many talented players at graduation. However, the girls on the team this year are exceptionally hard working athletes with amazing spirit and I believe we will do just as well this year as last. Although some games were won and some were lost, every player put in 110% of her effort on and off the court. With speed and intensity, the girls improved their game with each day of practice. All of the girls on the team are wonderful and have nothing but bright futures ahead of them. Our coaches, Mr. Schmidt, Mr. Thomas, and Mrs. Ryan have always wanted the best for us and I can't thank them enough. Good luck, girls, in all that you do. I will miss you!

Dear Chieftain,

Thus far the King Philip basketball season has not been as good as we had hoped. The team is coached by Joe Reddington and consists of ten strong players including captains Brendan McGovern and Chris Voght and players Nick Campo, Justin O'Brien, Steven Casey, Andrew Griffin, Jeff Rieger, Dave McGuire, Mike Sarapas and sophomore Scotty Smith. Throughout the year we have experienced much drama and excitement. When we started out with four straight losses the team's morale was surprisingly low, but that didn't hold back the Warriors from tearing apart the Canton Bulldogs with a 71-51 win. The Bulldogs were the victims of a tough loss against Mansfield. "Going into the game was like no other, both mentally and physically. We all started out the game on a good note with a lot of confidence that we were going to win. Having lost four games straight did not hold us back; we released everything we had," said sophomore Scotty Smith after scoring a whopping 29 points. Throughout the rest of the season we will be supporting the Warriors and wishing them the best of luck along their way!

Sincerely,
Jeff Rieger

Dear Chieftain,

This winter cheerleading season is one of the most important times for us King Philip cheerleaders. Our squad has just recently experienced a vast change, having a new coach. Our new coach, Ms. Wilfert, is a hard-working, dedicated and determined person. She makes us strive to be the best and make it to the top with no exceptions. She gives us hope, motivation, and courage. She gives us hope that we will be number one, she gives us the motivation to keep going even when the times are rough, and she gives us courage to suck everything up and take one for the team. She makes all the girls want to push harder until we each succeed in reaching our goals. With competition right around the corner, our aspirations this season are to have a great routine and make it to states. As Ms. Wilfert and all the girls would say, "Second place is the first loser!" With all of our dedication, teamwork, and motivation, nothing can stop us! We have suffered from broken bones, black eyes, bruises, and pulled muscles, but it has never prevented us from giving it our all. These setbacks only make us work harder. We have overcome many obstacles that would have discouraged us in the past, but we have learned to put everything behind us and just give it that extra strength to pull through. What's important is that we do it together. Our team, starting from nothing, and last year being one place from making it to states, is unbelievable. This year, we are going to do it! From stunts to jumps to tumbling, our squad is bound to be on top. Having a new, amazing coach by our side, telling us to do something over because we can do it better, is refreshing. Knowing we can be better makes us work that much harder. Nothing can pull us down. All the work brings us nothing but satisfaction. After all, we are not just cheerleaders; we are a family!

Sincerely,

Keri Abramowicz

Dear Chieftain,

This season went great! Newcomers like the freshmen and Carlee really added an irreplaceable strength to the team. They really stepped it up! Every team member contributed in some way to make this season memorable. From the wins by a few points to the wins by just a few tenths of a point it all added up; the support was there.

This year each team member gave another member a "Spirit Sister" gift before each meet. We are a very close-knit group of friends, and deliver support whenever it is needed. Before our biggest meet of the season, the captains, Rachel and Caroline, went around the school during homeroom, in search of each gymnast, to give her an inspiring quote. This quote made everyone excited and pumped for the whole day and it worked! We ended up having one of our best meets all year!

We have a team mascot, Kippy, and he is also one of our favorite cheerleaders and really gets us focused on having a great meet. We don't go anywhere without him!

Dear Chieftain,

The hockey season has been great this year. We have played very well so far and hopefully we can continue to. Our team is getting better every game we play. All four lines and all of our defense have played extremely well. We have also had solid performances throughout our games. We have beaten Canton, 4-3, which hasn't happened in over 20 years. Our current record of 7-1 shows just how good our performances have been. Dan Shea continues to open the door solidly and D.Lo still passes out fingers after each game. The whole school is excited about the team's unbelievable performances in our past games and everyone is excited to see how the season will end. Hopefully we have a shot at the Hockomock title.

Dear Chieftain,

Have you ever wondered who those people are running through the halls? That's us, the King Philip indoor track team, working hard at practice every day. At practice the long distance and sprinting team split up after stretches and warm ups. Both practices consist of workouts, weight lifting, drills, and, of course, running. After a long week of practice the team comes together at the meets. Hockomock teams compete in a number of events. These events vary from the 50-meter dash to the 2-mile run. The meets usually take up a long time but it's all worth it because of the quality time spent with the team. At the meets many family and friends come to support the team. Once the meet is over, no matter the outcome, the team is always supportive of each other. Then practice starts up again on Monday. Track is always filled with laughs and good times. So now the people running through the halls aren't a mystery any more.

The upperclassmen showed great positive leadership, the captains and seniors especially. Everyone had a good time; there was always something to laugh at. You were a wonderful addition to our family.
I would never have had it any other way.
Lindsay adored you and vice versa.

Today is your day to go forward to experience life to its fullest. Never forget your family will always be behind you—unconditionally. And wherever life leads you—we wish you happiness and good health.

Love,
Mom and Lindsay

John Phillips

John,
We are very proud of you. We wish you much success and happiness in the years to come. We have enjoyed watching you play football and look forward to watching you play in college.

Love,
Mom & Dad

Christina Giacalone

Oh Christina, I hate writing the same thing as everybody else. I bet they'll all say something like, "I will always love you, keep up the good work, you are the best sister/brother/son/daughter in the entire vastness of the universe!" Well, I hate conformity. If you ever need to know how much I love/appreciate/admire or care about you and your well being, just ask me and I'll write a poem or a book about it. You want the moon? Just ask - Love, Vito

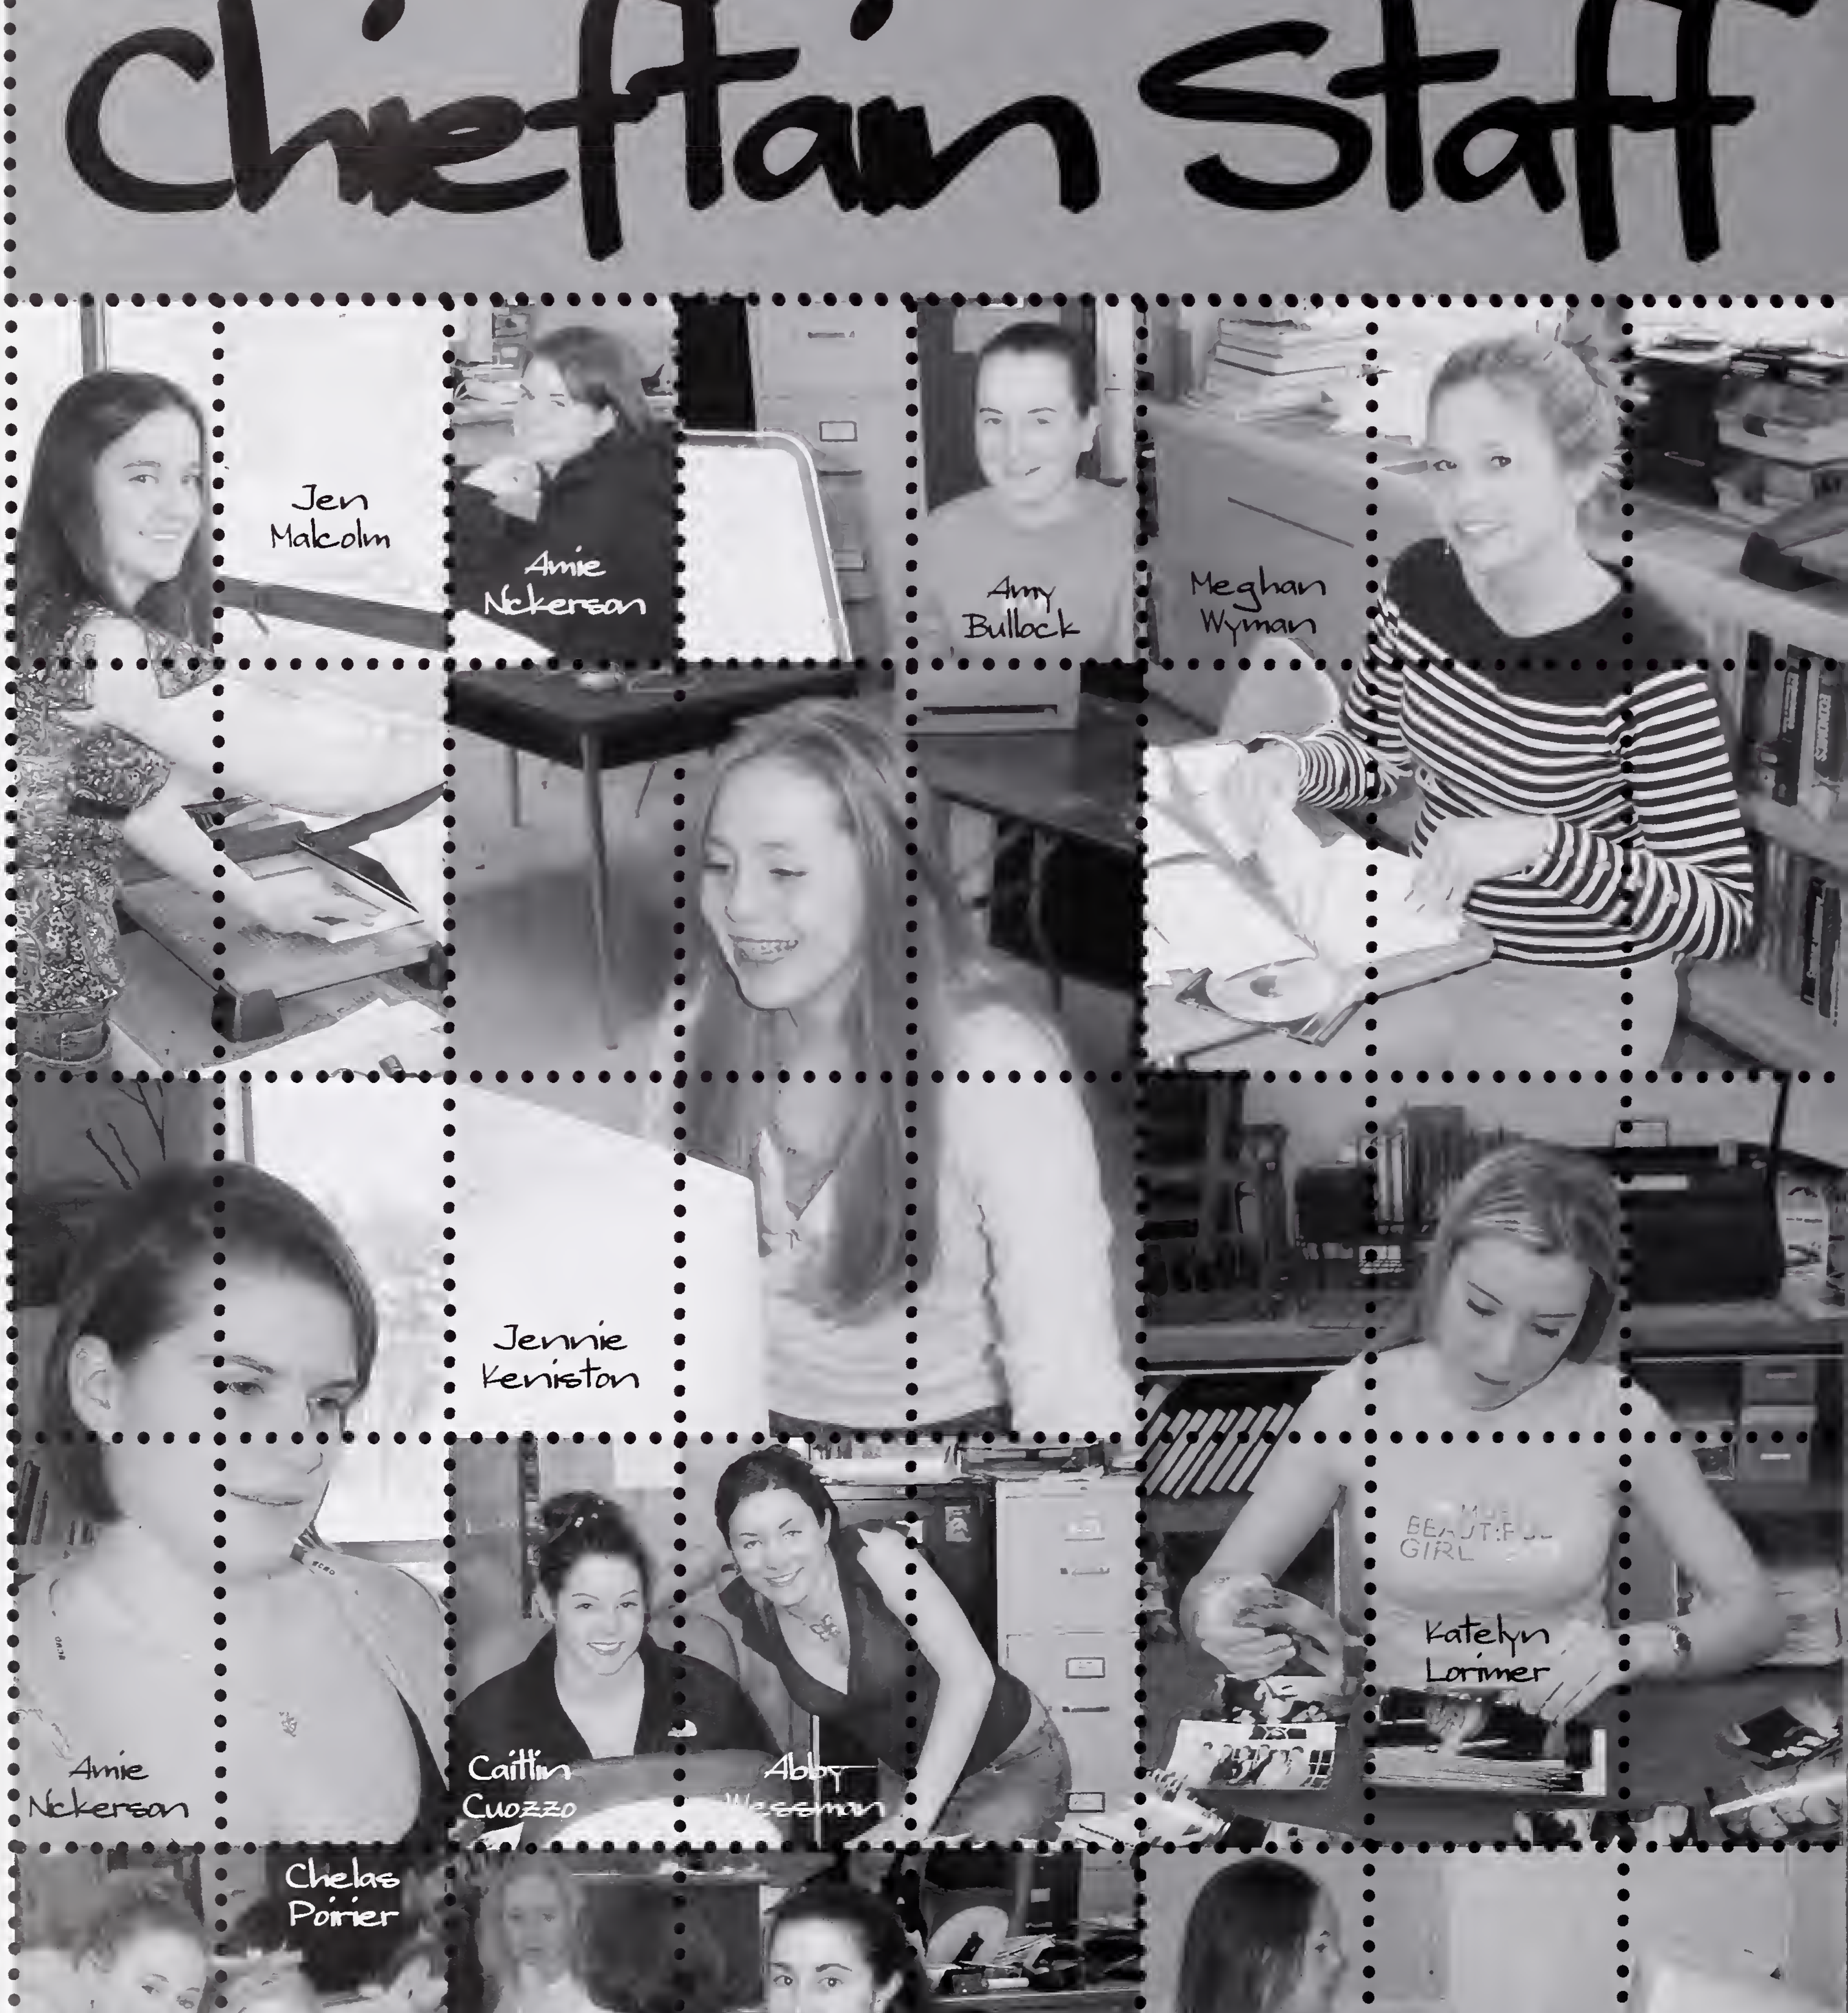
Send Me on My Way

Chieftain Staff



They sent you on your way!

Send Me on My Way

Every year at this time I feel a little sad that another yearbook has been finished and another year of working with the best students in the school has ended. That sadness has always been tempered by the thought that we still have a supplement to finish and a new yearbook to start planning for. This year, however, the sadness is real, for this is the last yearbook that will be done by a class at King Philip. We've been told that we're a victim of the poor economy; the school's budget can't support that kind of luxury. And since KP is the only school around with this kind of program, it must be expendable. We've also heard that a pretty good book can be produced by volunteer help as an extracurricular activity. And that may be true. But in the end, King Philip will still have lost one of the best programs it ever offered. Brain child of Dr. Ferris seven years ago, the Modern Publishing class has consistently produced students who have learned a marketable skill, page layout using PageMaker and PhotoShop. It has also helped young adults to learn the meaning of the word deadline, as they've rarely seen it before. They're used to their teachers' being able to stretch a due date when a snow storm or a Pats' Parade empties the school. That's not possible when the deadline comes from our North Carolina plant; they don't listen to excuses when the presses are hungry for work. This year the staff worked valiantly to make every deadline, only to have the post office fail to deliver an overnight package on time. We lost two days because of that. Unfair? Of course! But that's what the real world is like and that's what my girls learned this year. And so some may think we're not a necessary part of the King Philip education and some may say that we don't have the flashiness of some of the other school media and activities, but in the end we know that we did a terrific job. We know that the students of King Philip will be proud of this yearbook especially when they see what other high schools publish. We know that we gave the students of this school the publication that they deserve.

So whom will I praise this year for helping to produce the 47th edition of The Chieftain? First and foremost I want to thank my marvelous staff: Brittney and Sydney (editors-in-chief), Chelas and Kara (opening pages), Abby, Cait, and Kate (senior section), Molly and Ashley (undergrads), Lindsey and Chrissy (faculty), Amy, Amie, and Meghan (student life), Jen and Jennie (sports), Amanda (layouts, index, computers), Kait and Allie (finances, ads). Before school, after school, and into the evening they worked to finish their tasks. They went to events to take photos, they bullied teachers to fill out their forms, they wrote notice after notice, they checked and rechecked their figures and they went looking for someone to identify a figure in a photo. There are so many tasks that must be done that there isn't enough room here to list even a fraction of them. And still, I will always remember Amy's smile as she came in for the third morning in a row at 7 a.m. only to have her computer bomb. I will see Meghan losing another study to get a head start on her work, and Brittney and Sidney missing their senior homeroom experience to hear me complain about the latest problem day after day. Abby became my ombudsman; she was there everyday willing to solve any problem, even while she ran around as senior class president. I wish I had more room to write about the girls. Each one is unique and each one contributed so much of herself to this book.

There are other people, of course, who "worked" on The Chieftain this year. The secretaries do so much to help us; Pauline, Marilyn, Kathy, April, Mary, and Elaine are so talented and pleasant to work with. The custodians are also great. Mr. Hassel always delivers packages with a flourish and Mark does yeoman work cleaning up our mess. We also owe thanks to the media staff who didn't see as much of us this year as usual, but who were always there to help. Marilyn, Joanie, and Mariann extended the welcome mat when we needed to use the copiers or computers. There are also many teachers in the school who do take our work seriously. These are the people who allow my girls to come late to class when the bell has caught us unawares. They help by handing in questionnaires on time. One even gave extra credit to students who answered our call for photos. And then there are the King Philip students. So many of you trust us with your photos and pose for pictures for us that we'd find it impossible to produce a quality product without you. And as good as the students are, their parents are even more incredible. I talk to parents at least once a week about the yearbook. They are always courteous, generous with their praise, and willing to work with us to get the job done.

U.S. MAIL
APPROVED BY THE POSTMASTER GENERAL

On the outside we have wonderful people working with us as well. Our photographer is Gary Geoffroy of Chestnut Hill Studios, in Seekonk. He is one of the nicest people I have ever met; if we need an event covered, he's there. We've also fallen in love with Louis who covers so many of our sports events. Everyone there is terrific, from the people who answer the phones to the undergrad photographers; as I always say, if you see a bad photo, you know that Chestnut Hill didn't take it.

We also have friends as far away as North Carolina and Pennsylvania. These are our Jostens friends. Sandy Moses is our customer rep. She calls us when there's a problem or just calls to say hello. And nothing is too difficult for her to fix. With Sandy on the job we know that our book is going to turn out perfect. We've also gotten to know our cover artist, Melissa Bagwell, who takes the designer's ideas and makes a real cover out of it. We hope you like this year's cover. We love it! and Melissa was a big part of bringing it to life. And then there's our cover designer, Rick Brooks. He flies in each year from Pennsylvania just to listen to what we think we want and then step by step helps us to produce the cover we really want. What a creative genius he is. (Be sure to check out the tape on the cover.) He also designs the recurring artwork we use and helps us to design our opening pages and the divider pages. And finally, there's Arnie Lohman and his new partner Peter Greer. Arnie's been our main man for so long that I'll truly miss his frequent phone calls; it started out business, but has really become a friendship. And even though we didn't get much time to get to know Peter, it's obvious that he's a great addition to the Jostens family. We truly wish you luck and hope that you'll visit when you're at K.P.

Whatever happens next year, whoever chooses to take on this gargantuan task, I truly wish you luck. A yearbook is a very important part of a school. It's a history of the year, probably the most widely enjoyed history text in the school. And it serves as a history for the community. Whoever you are, you have a duty to make it the best yearbook you possibly can, because this year will never be repeated. You only have one chance to get it right. But if you love printing as much as I do, I know that it will become your all-consuming passion. Again, I wish you good luck.

And now I truly come to the end of the 2004 Chieftain and my experiences being its advisor. It's been a great seven years. I have seen a whole different side of working with students. Producing a yearbook has energized my career and me; it has given me a new identity. I am no longer just a history teacher, known only to those who have taken one of my courses; now students from every grade and level feel comfortable coming to see me about prom pictures, photo retakes, order forms and a dozen other requests. Instead of standing in front of a group in a formal setting spouting about people long dead and maybe long forgotten (except by history teachers), I now get to work one on one teaching a student how to resize a photo, I get to joke about how a drawing for the cover scares us, I get to walk out of my classroom knowing that my staff will continue to work whether I am there or not, and I get to treat them like the young adults that they are, letting them know just what I know about the future of their publishing class. So I thank you, Dr. Ferris for having the courage to try something new and for changing my life. And I thank once again all of the people who have given me seven great years. You Sent Me on My Way!

Miss Coutu

We can't end the book without the technical information, so here goes. This yearbook was produced on a bunch of very old Macs (They were new when I started doing The Chieftain.) and three new machines (an IMac and two EMacs). We used PageMaker 6.5 and PhotoShop 5-7 depending on the age of the computer. Most of the type is Palatino, but our headlines and special type is AYT Christina.
